Income Taxes For Aged Care GOP Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican Platform Committee plans to consider a proposal to raise income taxes—rather than Social Security taxes—to pay for health care for the aged.

"We have always favored progressive taxes rather than regressive taxes," said Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., chairman of the committee that meets in San Francisco next month.

"An increase in the Social Security tax, as the Democrats have proposed to pay for their medical care program, would weigh heaviest on those least able to pay," he said in an interview.

The Social Security tax is deducted only from the first $4,800 of earnings, so that a laborer earning that much pays as much tax as a millionaire.

Laird said his party has always stood for taxes such as the graduated income tax under which amount of the tax depends on the ability to pay.

Laird said that while New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller favors using Social Security taxes to pay for health care for the aged, the general revenue approach is backed by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

He said the proposal to raise income taxes to pay for such health care came from an economics professor at a leading university at the request of platform committee officials. The professor was not identified.

Graft Revives Teachers Hand

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A three-inch section of nerve grafted into a Los Angeles schoolteacher's right wrist restored feeling to her "spanking hand," she related at the American Medical Association annual convention.

"Unfortunately we're not allowed to spank," Blanche Sheets said with a laugh in answer to reporters' questions.

Mrs. Sheets, who teaches the fifth and sixth grades, is one of the first persons to undergo a successful nerve homograft—a transplant from another person. Hers came from the newly amputated leg of a man.

Mrs. Sheets is a patient of Dr. Leonard Marmor, orthopedic surgeon of the University of California at Los Angeles Medical Center.

Mrs. Sheets injured her hand opening a can of fruit cocktail. It took six months after the operation for feeling to come back to her thumb, index finger, middle finger and part of the ring finger.

She now has full use of the injured hand, she demonstrated, because other, uninjured nerves control its movement.

Southern Foes Of Rights Bill Fight For Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The final stage of the year-long battle to pass a civil rights bill opens in the House today with Southern foes determined to delay its final approval for another week.

The opponents are down to their last round of ammunition, however, and Speaker John W. McCormack has promised President Johnson the bill will be at the White House by July 4.

With the action shifted back to the House, the Senate digs into an enormous backlog of legislation built up during the historic 83-day debate over the civil rights bill. Scheduled for action this week are bills appropriating funds to run the Interior, Treasury and Post Office departments during the coming fiscal year.

Week Is Limit

The delay in bringing the sweeping, Senate-passed civil rights bill to a final vote in the House is made possible by a requirement that the House Rules Committee approve a resolution sending it to the floor.

Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., who opposes the bill, can block action on the resolution simply by refusing to call a meeting. He can hold out only for a week, however, as the rules permit a majority of the committee to schedule a meeting within seven days of requesting one, if the chairman fails to act.

The request is to be made today, as soon as the Senate bill is sent over to the House. A bipartisan majority of the committee is expected to force a meeting by June 30 or July 1.

House action is necessary because the Senate substituted a bipartisan package for the bill approved four months ago by the House. In general, the two versions are virtually alike. The Senate bill gives states and cities more time to deal with complaints.

Strong Provisions

The Senate bill is the strongest of its kind in the last century. It bans racial discrimination in most public places; bans major employers and unions from discriminating racially in jobs or membership; bars vote registrars from using different standards in disqualifying white and Negro voting applicants; gives the attorney general power to initiate suits in school desegregation and other discrimination cases; permits the cut-off of funds to federally aided programs where racial discrimination is allowed to continue.

Once the bill gets to the floor, its passage is certain. Last February the House passed its version, 290 to 130, and the bipartisan leaders who pushed it through have endorsed the Senate substitute.

Borneo Jungle Battle Rages

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Indonesian guerrrillas made one of the biggest attacks of the Borneo jungle war Sunday night, only 24 hours after the collapse of the second omalaysian summit conference, a security forces spokesman announced in Sarawak.

Five Gurkhas were killed and five others wounded in the six-hour battle near the frontier about 50 miles west of Kuchung, the spokesman said.

The number of guerrilla casualties was not known. The dead and wounded were reported carried back across the frontier as security forces forced the guerrillas to retreat.

The spokesman said the attack on the Gurkha patrol continued for six hours in some of the fiercest fighting of the anti-guerrilla campaign.

Government officials predicted a major stepup in the Indonesian guerrilla campaign following collapse of the peace conference Saturday in Tokyo.

Radio Indonesia voiced a tougher new stand against Malaysia.

Racial Listings Are Eliminated On Defense Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has ordered racial designations removed from most personnel forms listing them, it was learned today.

The action was taken quietly in April by Alfred B .Fitt, deputy assistant secretary of defense for civil rights.

Since then, the individual armed services have moved to put the order into effect.

Fitt told The Associated Press it was found there were 24 or 25 forms that still carried racial listings. "In most cases, they shouldn't have," Fitt said.

The Pentagon's civil rights chief has been carrying on a campaign for nearly a year to eradicate all traces of racial discrimination within the military establishment, and to ease discrimination against Negro servicemen in areas surrounding military bases.

Affected forms included personnel security questionnaires reports of transfer or discharge, statements of personal history, evaluations of WAC or WAF applicants, Navy applications for enlistment, certain medical records and others.

Cuba Buys More British Buses

LONDON (AP)—Cuba placed an order today for 500 more British buses—a further installment of a deal that provoked American displeasure earlier this year.

Cuban government officials signed the contract here with Leyland Motors, Ltd., the firm which previous agreed to supply 450 buses to Fidel Castro's government.

The original deal for 450 buses at a cost of $11.2 million specified that Cuba should have an option on an additional 1,000 buses.

The initial contract, concluded in January, was criticized by the U.S. State Department.

So far, the British government has refused to ban the bus shipments, asserting that buses do not amount to strategic materials.

Long Hospital Stay Faced By Sen. Kennedy

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) —A special canvass rigging constitutes Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's immediate world as the youngest brother of the late President John F. Kennedy begins a long, slow recuperation from a broken back.

Known as a "Foster frame," it takes the place of a more uncomfortable, unwieldly plaster cast which for years was a must for persons with fractured vertabrae.

The frame will keep Kennedy, 32, as comfortable as possible while surgeons determine whether surgery will be needed for the three broken vertabrae he suffered in a plane crash Friday night in which two persons died.

Can't Be Moved

Though the freshman Democratic senator, elected 19 months ago to fill his brother's unexpired term in the U.S. Senate, faces six to eight months of recuperation, doctors stress he will recover completely, barring unforeseen complications.

Also at Cooley Dickinson Hospital were Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and his wife. They were in good condition from less serious injuries suffered in the crash but were expected to be held at the hospital the rest of the week.

Kennedy cannot be moved for another 10 to 12 days, Brig Gen. Henry Murphey, head of the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital in Washington, said Sunday night.

He and Dr. Thomas F. Corriden, who has been attending the senator since he was brought into the hospital early Saturday, said Kennedy continues to show "definite improvement." Doctors had said previously that there was no neurological damage and that Kennedy escaped any paralysis from the broken back.

Kennedy also suffered two broken ribs and fractures of three transverse processes, which extend from the vertabrae and give the spine support.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy visited her brother-in-law Sunday, as did other members of the Kennedy family.

Kennedy and Bayh, 36 — the two youngest members in the U.S. Senate—had their first meeting Sunday since the crash

Kennedy was taken out of oxygen as doctors reported his blood pressure and breathing considerably improved.

Kennedy was en route from Washington to the Massachusetts Democratic convention in Springfield when the plane crashed in an apple orchard in Southampton.

Killed instantly was the pilot, Edwin T. Zimny, 48, of Andover, Mass. Kennedy's aide, Edward Moss, 41, also of Andover, died about seven hours after the crash.

Greek And Turk Leaders Confer With President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Veteran Turkish Prime Minister Ismet Inonu arrives today for the first of two sets of conferences this week in which President Johnson hopes to ease the Greek-Turkish tension over Cyprus.

The meetings between Johnson and Inonu today and Tuesday are to be followed by similar conferences Wednesday and Thursday between the President and Greek Premier George Papandreou. No direct talks between the Greek and Turkish leaders are planned.

Talks with Johnson, a White House luncheon and a reception at the Turkish Embassy are on Inonu's schedule today.

Johnson invited Inonu and Papandreou in the wake of reports that Turkey planned to put troops ashore on Cyprus. The President then ordered Undersecretary of State George W. Ball to Athens and Ankara to express this government's concern over the situation.

However, the State Department has made clear the United States has no preference for any of the solutions proposed to take the steam out of the Cyprus situation. The United Nations is trying to mediate the crisis.

The United States has tried to convince Greece and Turkey, both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, that only the Communists can benefit from the present situation.

The hope in Washington is that improved relations between Greece and Turkey will bring an improvement in relations between the majority Greeks and the minority Turks on Cyprus, a former British territory which became independent in 1960.

On Cyprus, it was reported that Gen. George Grivas, who led Greek Cypriot underground fighters during the fight to win independence from Britain, had returned to the island. This was expected to harden the Greek Cypriot wing which demands union with Greece.

Scranton Says His Support Is Growing

Bogus Money Ring Smashed

DETROIT (AP)—Confiscation of more than $800,000 in fake $20 bills, found in a grocery store basement, figures in the final chapter in a $3 million counterfeiting deal, now apparently brought to an end, authorities said.

The market proprietor, Pietro DiLorenzo, 48, named by the Secret Service as ringleader, was arrested with two other men Saturday on charges of possession of counterfeit money.

James J. Burke, head of the Detroit office of the Secret Service, said the confiscation and the arrests apparently cleaned up a fake $20 bill conspiracy that began with the making of the bogus money three years ago.

About 30 persons have been sentenced. In all, 79 persons, both men and women, were arrested during the long investigation.

Federal agents said $812,200 in fake $20 bills, nearly perfectly made, were found hidden in the basement of DiLorenzo's market.

DiLorenzo's bond was set at $50,000 in Federal Court. Vincent Mazzola, 29, a factory worker and co-defendant, was put under $25,000 bond. The third man, Matteo LoPiccolo, 42, a butcher in the market, was freeed on $5,000 personal bond.

Supreme Court Scans 3 Plans For Districting

LANSING (AP) The Michigan Supreme Court sits down today to study three "one man, one vote" legislative redistricting plans. And the major issue is how close to 100 per cent equal in population the districts must be.

The Michigan Constitution's State Senate district formula, based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area, was ruled out by a U.S. Supreme Court decision last Monday calling for both houses of a state legislature to be apportioned according to population.

Following the decision, the Michigan high court ordered the eight-member State Apportionment Commission to draw up plans that would meet the U.S. Court's requirements.

Deadlocked 4-4, the commission gave up last Friday on trying to agree on one plan. Saturday, it submitted three plans for the court to consider.

Democrats on the commission say their plan has a maximum population difference of 2,027 between Senate districts and 3,802 between House districts.

But Republican cochairman Wilbur Brucker calls the plan "a blueprint for election confusion" because it cuts county lines in 17 places. He said he would ask the U.S. Supreme Court for a stay if the Michigan court approves it.

"It is ridiculous to believe that the U.S. Supreme Court would stay whatever the Michigan Supreme Court approves," said A. Robert Kleiner, a coauthor of the Democratic plan. "To do so would leave Michigan without any legislative districts and throw the state into the chaos of an election at large."

The first Republican plan would cut each of Michigan's 19 congressional districts in two—making 38 senatorial districts. GOP commission members say its maximum population difference would be 15,997 and that it cuts no township or city boundaries. It cuts lines between Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

The second GOP plan, filed by William Hanna of Muskegon, follows county lines in the Senate. It reduces Upper Peninsula House representation from five, as provided in the plan approved earlier by the Michigan court, and gives the extra representative to Monroe County.

Formosa Plane Death Toll 57

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—All Civil Air Transport planes were grounded in Formosa today for a threee-day safety check.

The Ministry of Communications issued the order after the crash of a CAT twin-engine in central Formosa Saturday, killing all 57 persons on board, including 20 Americans.

It was the first loss of any passengers by CAT, the Nationalist Chinese airline founded in 1946 by the late Lt. Gen. Claire Chennault of the wartime Flying Tigers.

Most of the Americans were on a sightseeing trip. They included the Rev. Bertis E. Downs III, 32, of Clifton Forge, Va. Downs, who is survived by his widow, Ann, and three sons, had been a member of the Formosa mission of the Presbyterian Church of America.

Auto Leaps Over Opening Bridge

MILFORD, Conn. (AP)—Just like those chase scenes in the movies, a car sailed from one side of an opening drawbridge to the other last night, police reported.

Raymond Spinosi, 28, of Scranton, Pa. was approaching the U.S. 1 bridge over the Housatonic River when the bridge began to open.

Unable to stop, Spinosi's car went over the top and landed upright six feet away on the other section of the bridge. He was uninjured but his car was damaged.

Police said a lever which unlocks the bridge mechanism apparently tripped accidentally.

Swedes Chilly Toward Nikita

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in the capital of neutral Sweden today. He was met by newspaper demands for information on the fate of a Swedish diplomat captured by the Russians in 1945.

Khrushchev and his wife, Nina, came ashore in a Swedish motor torpedo boats after sailing through the Baltic Sea from Denmark in the Soviet liner Bashkiria.

It was a gray, chilly day—and Khrushchev's welcome from Swedish newspapers was chilly, too.

In big headlines and outspoken words they demanded an official statement from him on the fate of Raoul Wallenberg, Swedish diplomat who was arrested by Soviet troops in Hungary and has not been heard of since.

Wallenberg was traced to the Soviet Union and the Swedish government demanded his return. The Russians for years maintained that they knew nothing about Wallenberg but in 1957 admitted he had been imprisoned in Russia and claimed he died in Lubianka Prison in Moscow in 1947.

Subsequently the Swedish government found increasing evidence that Wallenberg was alive. He was said to be in a prison in Vladimir, 12 miles east of Moscow, as late as 1954.

Major Switch Of Delegates Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton says Republican convention delegates "in greater numbers than I expected" are lining up behind his presidential candidacy.

The Pennsylvania governor, who plans to confer starting Tuesday with key uncommitted delegations in the East, Midwest and South, says he thinks the major swing to him by delegates now favoring front-running Sen. Barry Goldwater will start in about a week and a half.

Scranton gave no figures on shifts so far in his appearance Sunday on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation."

Ohio Watched

He planned to stay in Harrisburg, Pa., today, but had an eye on Columbus, Ohio, where the 58-vote Ohio delegation is scheduled to meet.

The delegation includes at least 15 Goldwater supporters but is nominally pledged to Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes on the first ballot. A key to Scranton's success is to assure that such delegations stay uncommitted so that Goldwater doesn't go over the top on the first rollcall at the GOP convention at San Francisco.

"If he doesn't win on the first ballot, it would be very difficult for him to win at all," Scranton told newsmen Sunday before he returned to Harrisburg from Washington.

While in the capital he conferred with the nine-delegate District of Columbia delegation. He called it "a very successful meeting" but declined to elaborate.

The latest Associated Press survey of GOP convention delegates gives Goldwater 694 first-ballot votes—39 more than the number needed for nomination. Scranton is credited with 138 votes.

Coming To Michigan

A spot check of GOP delegates from Missouri, Nevada, Utah, Kansas, Nebraska, Tennessee and Georgia showed Goldwater's strength remained what it was before he voted against the civil rights bill.

Scranton's schedule this week includes trips to New Jersey, Delaware, West Virginia, Ohio and Michigan, which together have 103 delegates uncommitted or behind favorite sons.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., who will be permanent chairman of the San Francisco convention, said today Illinois might indicate whether Scranton can take delegates away from Goldwater.

The 58-delegate group, headed by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, meets next Tuesday to hear Goldwater and Scranton state their cases. At present, Goldwater is credited with 37 Illinois votes, while 19 including Dirksen and GOP gubernatorial candidate Charles H. Percy are uncommitted.

Johnson Satisfied

There were these developments on the Democratic side:

—President Johnson returned to Washington well pleased with three days spent in California. Democratic leaders told the President they expected the Democratic national and state tickets to poll decisive margins in the state in November.

—Wisconsin Gov. John W. Reynolds, who won the Wisconsin presidential primary as a stand-in for the President, released the state's 46 convention votes to Johnson. The delegation voted to "abide by President Johnson's decision" on his vice presidential running mate.

—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, returning to his Waverly, Minn., home after Senate passage of the civil rights bill, received a sign-waving welcome Saturday from civil rights supporters. New figures in the Minneapolis Tribune's copyright Minnesota Poll showed he had forged ahead of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as a vice presidential favorite of Democrats and independents.

—Kennedy, who has been considering running for the Senate in New York, was attacked indirectly by another possibility for the nomination, Rep. Samuel Stratton of upstate New

Auto Makers Wind Up 1964

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors will be the first auto maker to halt output of 1964 models when it shuts its production line down during the week of July 12 to prepare for 1965 model production.

Chrysler will wind up its '64 production late in July and begin production of '65's the second week of August.

Ford operations will close down gradually in July for the switchover to '65's. The exception will be the Mustang line, which will continue in operation.

General Motors has not set a final timetable, but its divisions are expected to cease production of '64's late in July.

Chrysler will hold the press preview of its new lines in New York Aug. 17-21. Ford will unveil its Ford and Lincoln-Mercury division cars at back to back Detroit previews Sept. 8 and 9.

Walter Bright's Farewell

School Support Decision Ahead For Esky Area

Walter Bright, superintendent of the Escanaba Area School District for 5 years, today reviewed the accomplishments of his administration in a frank survey which expressed his belief that the district has the means for a first class public school system.

But the district, suggests Bright, who is leaving to take up a school administrator's job at Grand Haven, Mich., has some decisions to make if it is to give its school administration the means of remaining competitive with other school systems in the state.

"We haven't solved our building needs,'" said Bright. "Our original budgets had items for maintenance work on the schools and we cut them out when there wasn't enough money to go around. We used the limited money in such a way that it wouldn't hurt the kids and let the buildings go. But we've run out of gas in that business; the buildings are deteriorating and we need to do something.

"We're also going to have an increased transportation cost next fall because of the new school bus law (which compels school districts to haul children to private as well as public schools). We estimate that this will probably cost $25,000 extra the first year.

Deficit Increasing

"There are also teacher salary increases. Faculty morale here seems good, but we wouldn't have kept some of our teachers for next year if the board hadn't adopted its salary schedule (increases.)

"In 1961 we were required by the fire marshal to do $40,000 worth of work on the Webster, Washington and Jefferson schools. We carried this cost as a deficiency item and generally got it cut down to $30,000 but the deficiency item will be between $50,000 and $60,000 by the end of the year.

"The public seems to suspect the figures on education cost presented by educators. On Dec. 28, 1963 the Michigan Education Association reported on the amount of money raised locally for schools in 27 Michigan districts that are comparable to ours in tax valuation per pupil and in population.

"Escanaba was 21st in the 27 in the number of dollars per pupil raised locally ($137) for school operation. (Marquette, 5th, raised $220; The Soo, 24th, raised $125 and expects a $150,000 deficit by June 30, 1964) and Menominee, 26th, raised $110. High cities were East Grand Rapids, $310; Dearborn, $266; Willow Run, $255 and Rochester, $243.)

Community Is Able

"Without an assistant superintendent we're 'just keeping house' administratively and have no personnel for staff curriculum development. That's why we had no science fair this year. If we're going to have a good school program we need adequate staff.

"This community has as much potential as any I've known. It needs only to get together on a decision of what should be done for its kids.

"One of the problems is religion, though religion itself is not the real problem. (Bright is going to a community with Duth Reform, Lutheran, 7th Day Adventist and Catholic parochial schools.) 1 sense that many parochial school supporters don't feel that the public schools make any real contribution to the community; and there's a large segment of Protestants who believe that nothing the public schools do should have anything to do with the parochial schools.

"Until this relationship is solved, difficulties in organizing a community school system are going to exist.

"The community has shown, time and again, that it can do anything it wants to. It showed this in the Centennial celebration, in Project Pride, in the Big Ole celebration, in the construction of the municipal electric plant and the creation of the city's fine park system.

Good On Surface

"People who are away for 15 years are amazed that so much has been done in the community. On the surface it looks real good. But we have got to solve some basic internal problems.

"The amount of local support for education here is the reverse of that in most state communities, where the local community contributes more to its schools than does the state. In Escanaba the state provides something under 60 per cent of the cost and the local contribution is around 40 per cent.

"We have been preaching that we are a depressed area too long. We are beginning to believe it.

"People believe that we are a much better than average community to live in; then why can't we be average in our school expenditures?

Use New Leaders

"We have so many government agencies here that they bring many people into the community. This is a new and vital influx. The community should use it and exploit it and not try to squash it.

"I am concerned about the inexperience on the board of education. When I came here its members had 45 years of experience. The current board has a total of 6 years. The problem is to get good people to run for the board of education and to keep them in office. When a businessman feels that his business is declining because of decisions he makes in the interests of the communitie's children he is not apt to run again. The community has got to respect the people it elects if it is to have effective school administration.

"Every taxpayer has as much voting power as members of the school board in final analysis — just one vote. The voters determine pretty much how much spending there will be for schools. There was $12.50 added to state aid formula this year, bringing it up to $236.50, but the deductible millage went up too, so it means $8.50 added for Escanaba.

"Escanaba has a reputation for good schools, but such reputations tend to live on after justification is gone sometimes. The community cannot keep its position of leadership without determining that it will pay what good schools cost."

GOOD FOR PLATFORM

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney of Michigan said here that Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton's candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination will help define the issues in the 1964 campaign.

"I believe Gov. Scranton's candidacy focusses more attention on the platform," Romney said, "and consequently there is more likelihood of the convention giving the attention it should give to the party's platform."

Romney was interviewed at the Kansas City Airport when he arrived Sunday night for a conference of midwestern governors on economic and industrial development opening today.

The Michigan governor said he has given no consideration to being a candidate for vice president. He said his sole responsibility at the Republican National Convention next month in San Francisco is to be the leader of an uncommitted Michigan delegation.

Romney has asked the Missouri and Kansas delegates to the national convention to meet with him Tuesday afternoon for a discussion of the national platform.

Without naming any candidates, he said the party should nominate men who would stand on the platform.

He said the platform should deal with three basic points—civil rights, the collective bargaining powers of both labor and employers, and foreign affairs. He said the GOP has a "great heritage" in all three fields and should strive to preserve it.

Calumet Offers Top Musicals

The historic old opera house in Calumet, opens its doors June 30 for another summer season of musicals. The theater, built in 1900, has featured such stars as Sarah Bernhardt, W. C. Fields, and scores of others. The current season of musical stock is being readied and presented by a professional resident company. Two early buildings, also built during the boom years of Calumet, have been converted into a theater plant for workshops and rehearsal rooms. It also provides living quarters and a dining room for the large company.

Leland Ball, producer-director, has scheduled this season of musical shows:

June 30-July 5 — The Fantasticks.

July 7-July 12 — Kismet.

July 14-July 19 — Anything Goes.

July 21-July 26 — H. M. S. Pinafore.

July 28-August 2 — Irma La Douce.

Aug. 4-9 — Flower Drum Song.

Aug. 11-16 — The Sound Of Music.

Aug. 18-23 — My Fair Lady.

Aug. 25-30 — Brigadoon

Sept. 1-6 — Camelot.

In addition to the regular season, the theater has scheduled 4 Children's Theater presentations. July 1, 8, 15, 22— Peter, Peter, Pumpkin Eater— 1 p.m.; The Magnificent Land Of Oz — 3 p.m.

New York is the only state in the Union which directly touches both the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Ocean.

Squires Close Convention

Michigan Columbian Squires assembled in Escanaba over the weekend for a three day state convention. The House of Ludington was the headquarters for the 10th annual convention with Walter Johnson, chief counsellor, as convention chairman.

Following Mass and breakfast Saturday the conventioneers went to the Holiday Bowl for a pool and bowling tournament.

Luncheon Saturday at the Houses of Ludington heard City Manager George Harvey and Mayor George Rusch presented the key to the city.

Rosemary Villeneuve, 1108 S. 14th St., rode the queen's float in the parade Saturday afternoon, with members of her court, Patty Beauchamp, Sharon Curran, and Kathy Desjarden.

Rev. Donald Shiroda of St. Thomas the Apostle Church spoke at the state banquet that evening, with William S. Heubler, toastmaster. Heubler read a telegram from Gov. George W. Romney stating that long standing speaking committments made it impossible for him to attend and expressed his best wishes to the convention.

Mayor Rusch proclaimen the week of June 21-27 Columbian Squires Week in Escanaba. He lauded the Squires for the progress which is vital to the youth of their communities and for living up to their motto "Esto Dignus" meaning Be Worthy. The proclamation also stated "through their many activities they have promoted juvenile decency."

Election and installation of new state officers was held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the K of C Clubrooms and the convention closed Sunday morning withs mass at St. Joseph' Church.

Mast Hits Wire; Boatsman Killed

ALDEN (AP)—Dr. Bryce A. Collier of Rocky River, Ohio, was electrocuted Saturday when the mast of a sailboat contacted a high-tension line at a cottage near Alden in northwestern Michigan. Collier and a friend were pushing the sailboat on a trailer into the yard of the cottage when the mast contacted the line, Antrim County Sheriff's deputies said.

Camporee Is Camp Prelude

The Red Buck Boy Scout District Camporee at Stevens Lake June 13-14 to prepare scouts for their summer encampment was attended by 217 boys under guidance of 23 adults.

Camp Director Clarence Konas, assistant district commissioner, was assisted by Jack Van Brocklin and Harold Van Brocklin of Gladstone, in presenting a program including hiking, and training in camping activities like use of compass, rope making, preparation of shelters, making fires, and safe handling axes and other equipment.

Manistique, Cooks, Powers, Bark River, Escanaba, Gladstone and Wells scouts attended the camporee and contest winners were: Timber Wolf Patrol, Manistique, cooking; Bobcat Patrol, Manistique, camporee banner for best campsite; Troop 405, Manistique, troop banner for camipng.

Judges were David Scherff, Gladstone, Paul Nickell, Bark River; and George McLaughlin, Manistique.

Physicians call it obesity, but it's just as unhealthy if we call it pounds—too many pounds. In some places a chief cause of early death is malnutrition but in this country the Grim Reaper's number one helper is overeating. Overweight people subject their heart and blood vessels to undue stresses and strains. Every ounce of excess flesh is a menace to health. Which is why so many of us diet today. And those of us who are wise see a physician first. We, as professional pharmacists, know how effective a doctor's advice can be.

Largest Farm Business Meet Set For Aug. 9

What has been billed as "the nation's largest farm business meeting" will be held at Michigan State University, Aug. 9-12. Upwards of 3,000 farm cooperative leaders, their wives and children, will crowd the campus for the regular yearly meeting of the American Institute of Cooperation.

Members of the Michigan Association of Farmer Cooperatives will host the meeting, and have planned a variety of events that include serving such famed Michigan farm products as apple and cherry drinks, milk — along with (reluctantly) coffee ..

"We are urging that directors of cooperative boards, along with their managers, attend the meeting," reports LA Cheney, secretary-manager of the Michigan Association, which has extended special invitations to many groups including 4-H and Future Farmers of America.

About 1,000 youth delegates are expected to attend, taking part in the general sessions and holding meetings of their own. Of special interest will be workshops dealing with full-time careers in cooperatives, and a talk by farmer-philosopher, Henry Schriver, who tells of "Cows—Kids—and Co-ops." Adult workshop sessions include an examination of cooperative mergers which have been taking place in many parts of the United States.

Iron River Area Joins Competition For Monsters

IRON RIVER — The north woods make an ideal setting for sighting "monsters."

The Sault Ste. Marie-St. Ignace area spent two years trying to guess the identity of its "mystery cat"—which took on new features every time it was seen—and more recently the Sister Lakes area of Lower Michigan is the locale for a frightening monster.

Iron County now has its own "monster." Take it from Mr. and Mrs. Paul Westman and their children, LeVerne and Russell, that was no ordinary animal they saw on the Felch road while returning from a vacation in Lower Michigan and Ohio.

The strange beast they sighted—and which they were able to observe for several minutes after stopping their car—"resembled a wolf but was the size of a deer." They said it had a long bushy tail, and spots and stripes on its face and behind its pointed ears.

Bats carry their newborn with them for several days after birth, with the young clinging to the mother's fur.

North Western Witnesses Heard In Soo Project

Four witnesses testified Friday at the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing in Marquette on a Soo Line application for joint trackage rights with the Lake Superior and Ishpeming Railroad Co. from Marguttte to Eben.

L. V. Johnson of Minneapolis, assistant to the Soo Line president for special studies, testified Friday.

Following Johnson's testimony, opponents of the Soo's application began to present their case.

The three remaining witnesses were called by John C. Danielson of Chicago, general attorney for the Chicago & North Western Railway Co.

They were Dr. Lee M. James, professor at Michigan State University, East Lansing, who testified concerning the forest products potential of the Upper Peninsula; Unto K. Makela, Negaunee, president of a Negaunee company which sells pulpwood and forest products; and W. H. Huffman, Chicago, assistant chief engineer for the North Western.

Railroad companies opposing the Soo's application contend that the Soo can't benefit by the use of the shorter Eben line south except at their expense. ..

Money For Schools

The Escanaba Area School District will vote Sept. 1 on a proposal to levy a 4 mill tax for operation of its schools. This will be in addition to the 3.8 mill tax for operation voted in 1961 and running through 1965. And this specially voted extra tax is in addition to the 7.3 mills allocated to the schools for their operation from the 15 mill general property tax.

Why these extra taxes for schools?

The question isn't being asked only in Escanaba, it is being asked generally in the Upper Peninsula and in Michigan. Upper Peninsula school administrators say that the money they get from the tax allocated to schools by the County Board of Tax Allocation isn't enough to operate them.

The schools have a choice of cutting their services or getting more taxes. The only way they can get more taxes is to have the public vote them.

* * *

Taxpayers know how the demands upon their income have increased, so they can understand that it costs more to maintain schools. They may not realize as quickly the problem of school superintendents in filling their faculties with able teachers. They must hire these teachers in a market where there's no surplus.

The teachers go where the salaries are best. That means that Upper Peninsula school districts—even when they're seeking to hire teachers from their home communities who are graduated from a "home" university like Northern at Marquette, must pay the going wage for good teachers, or be content with what can be hired for less.

The teacher is the most important person in the school. It would be much better to have her teach in a tent, a factory bay or a church basement than in a fine school building if it came to a choice between a good teacher and a good school building. Fortunately the Upper Peninsula's communities can afford both and there need be no choice between them.

* * *

But Upper Peninsula communities must make a choice between voting enough money for adequate schooling or accepting poorer schools that cost less. They will be poorly counseled if they are urged to economize where it sacrifices quality of instruction.

Parents and public should be aware of what's going on in American education in order to make a decision on school taxes. Walter Bright, who is leaving the Escanaba Area superintendency, says "If you asked 100 persons if the Upper Peninsula is a better than average place to live, 80 to 90 of them would say that it is. Only 10 to 20 per cent would say that it is poorer than average. Then why can't we be average in school expenditures?"

He cited that Escanaba is the reverse of the usual situation of school finance where the state provides about 40 per cent of school revenues and the local district under 60 per cent. In the Escanaba District the proportions are reversed and this isn't unusual in the U.P.

* * *

Our schools are changing. American colleges and universities expect to admit high school graduates in the fall who are the best prepared college students in the history of American schooling. That's the almost unanimous word from college admission officers.

They say that the efforts in recent years to beef up high school curriculums (courses of study) are now beginning to pay off in a big way. Many of this spring's high school graduates will jump right into advanced college courses next fall, skipping basic courses that were formerly mandatory for freshmen.

How will Upper Peninsula bright young graduates fit into this national pattern if they are not subjected to the same excellence and competition as the young people they'll be with in college? They start under a handicap that will be a most serious condemnation of our area and which will make persons assigned by industry avoid it like a plague.

More high schools are offering college-level courses in such subjects as calculus and physics. Parents who never had exposure to these subjects—nor need of them—must know that their children are not growing up in the world that they did. Citizens guard the welfare of their communities and have the final say on public spending. Unless they are impressed that this is a top priority item of community investment they will neglect the foundation on which communities are built.

The Doctor Says:

Headache Has Many Causes

By Dr Wayne G. Brandstadt.

Q — Our 11-year-old son complains of a headache on both sides of his head. He says he gets it often, but has not wanted to talk about it. Is this serious?

A—There are many causes for headaches. If your son gets them often he should have a thorough examination. Common causes include fatigue, emotional upsets, eye-strain and chronic sinusitis. From this distance, I can be sure of only one thing; these are not migraine headaches. Although migraine usually starts in childhood, it affects only one side of the head.

Q—What would be the side effects of cortisone when given to a 2-year-old child over an extended length of time?

A—Much would depend on the cause for which this drug is given. In general, prolonged use might cause moonface, abnormal fat deposits, waterlogging, pimples, growth of the skin, thinning of the hair on the scalp, poor resistance to infection and delayed wound healing. I'm sure your doctor would not give this drug to a 2-year-old for long periods without good reason. He would probably keep the dose to the smallest amount that would give the needed effect. Discontinuance of the drug, when it is done, must be gradual.

Q—My son has agammaglobulinemia. What is it and what is the treatment?

A—This is a deficiency of gamma globulin in the blood. The condition is congenital and, like color-blindness, may be transmitted by the mother, but is seen only in boys. Because gamma globulin helps us to fight infections, children with this deficiency get repeated infections and have a hard time to get rid of them.

The victims are especially susceptible to infections involving their joints. Injections of gamma globulin are given to help the victim overcome an infection, but the effect is not lasting and no permanent cure is known.

Q—Is it safe for a mother with asthma to breast feed her baby?

A—It is not only safe, but preferable. When babies develop asthma and other allergies, they usually get them from early infections or cow's milk.

Penn Station Eagles Wanted For Souvenirs

NEW YORK (AP)—Souvenir hunters have made a special target of Pennsylvania Station—especially its 14 granite eagles each more than five feet tall and weighing nearly three tons.

Private citizens, colleges, high schools, museums, government institutions, businesses and other railroads have written the Pennsylvania Railroad asking for them.

The railroad said it answers that the eagles are reserved for a proposed colonnade at Battery Park honoring former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. If that doesn't go through, requests by public institutions will be considered.

Washington Comment

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Republican party's traditional distaste for major internal combat contributed importantly to the image of floundering indecision many of its leaders exhibited at the Governors' Conference.

Few times in this century has the GOP undertaken intra-party warfare in choosing its presidential nominee. When that has happened, as in 1912, 1940 and 1952, Republicans have remembered the occasion as a severely traumatic experience to be avoided in the future if possible.

New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller encountered this attitude last time out, when GOP leaders broadly supporting Richard Nixon for the 1960 nomination told the governor he would hurt the party if he challenged Nixon in the primaries.

* * *

The same fears seem to have gripped Republicans this year. They account in no little part for the inertia which froze most of the non-Goldwater forces from the outset.

The strategy envisioned by chief backers of the two alternatives to Goldwater—Nixon and Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania—called for laying back and picking up the pieces if and when the Arizona senator should fail to take the prize.

Governors and others eager for the alternative choices acquiesced in this approach. Some politicians believe they could not have done otherwise. But others think they could have mounted a winning assault on Goldwater, had they been willing to commit themselves early and boldly to either Nixon or Scranton.

None of these leading figures was willing. Each played a cautious game, hoping that somehow an unpopular Rockefeller and some combination of fortuitous circumstances would do Barry in.

Their luck failed in California when he won the primary narrowly and leaped close to the nomination.

Confronted in Cleveland with the consequences of their inaction, first Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and then Richard Nixon tried feebly to fan fires of competition by stirring activity for Scranton and Gov. George Romney of Michigan. There were plaintive calls for an "open" convention at San Francisco.

But open conventions generally occur only when the intraparty rivalry is vigorous at every stage of the nominating process. The allegiance of delegates can be gained, under our system, in both primaries and state conventions held in the field from weeks to months before the national convention.

* * *

Goldwater went out to win by this fully accepted route. His only competition came from two handicaped candidates: Rockefeller, hurt by remarriage, and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, far away in Saigon and, anyway, not liked by party leaders.

Non-Goldwater forces meeting in Cleveland, taking a hesitant cue from Eisenhower, quickly discovered that belated brake talk was no match for Goldwater's commanding delegate lead, won in the field.

The view of many politicians and observers here was that these late-hour efforts were a sad exercise in futility.

To some, there was something almost comical in the countless private meetings among GOP governors, or between some of them and Nixon and Eisenhower. They represented swirling motion around an empty center.

No one was putting together a hard coalition of delegates. No one, less than 35 days from the big convention, was willing to announce his candidacy, nor did anyone openly endorse a candidate. A few governors played half-heartedly with delegate figures.

* * *

The final twist came when Nixon warned the governors that without some kind of stretch-drive competition, the GOP convention would be a television fiasco in July. He seemed to be saying that a battle not considered worth making in the field from January to June was now vital to serve the party's image in midsummer.

To that proposal one disheartened governor retorted: "How do you prevent the convention from being a dud on television when it's going to be a dud on television?"

The Cleveland meeting painfully underscores this judgment by participating politicians: If you will not risk the scars of battle, you can neither win the day nor enjoy the glory that goes with combat. Cleveland for four days was a place of bustling action. But its only real meaning was to demonstrate how close Goldwater, the lone soldier in the field, is to nomination next month.

Memory Lane

By J. R. LOWELL

Ten Years Ago

Mrs. Eugene Cabillot, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Peltier, 2217 Eighth Ave. S., is observing her 97th birthday anniversary. Mrs. Cabillot is a native of Alsace-Lorraine and has been a resident of Escanaba for 77 years.

Miss Gail Steede, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Steede, Escanaba, Rte. 1, recently received her habit as a Franciscan Sister of Charity at the Holy Family Convent at Manitowoc.

The Delta Shrine club received word today that the S. S. South American will arrive in Escanaba tomorrow, aboard will be 300 Shriners and their wives. The Shriners are all members of Ararat Temple, Kansas City, Mo.

Twenty Years Ago

The Schoolcraft county airport, rated as one of the best natural landing fields in the state, will be increased in size, 40 additional acres to the north having been purchased.

Several loads of woodworking material arrived in Escanaba today to be installed in the new Solar Furniture Co. plant on First Ave. N. Jack Jacobson, president of the company expects to have the plant in operation in a few weeks.

Alcott Erickson, formerly employed with the Soo Line at Gladstone, is now stationed in Iran. At the moment he states that what he misses most is soda funtain service. He knows of none such in Iran. The nearest imitation is a drink made from pomegranite juice. There is also ice cream to be had, but it is "awful."

Thirty Years Ago

A modernized successor to the "old swimmin' hole" has just been completed in Escanaba. Portage Creek, just below the spot where it is joined by Willow Creek has been dammed off and the land surrounding it is being made to serve as a Boy Scout camp. The work is a CWA park project.

The two landing strips at the airport are being materially lengthened and widened. When completed the strips will be 250 feet wide and 2,000 feet long.

Yesterday, an old timer wandered down Gladstone's main stret followed by a mallard duck. The unusual sight brought out a crowd and the old gentleman obliged the people by demonstrating the duck's versatility in a number of out-of-the-ordinary tricks. Between tricks the hat was passed. The old man's gleanings were small, but the wants of the two were simple. F G. Clark, 78, of Corpus Cristi, Texas, was the stranger and he said he made his living that way.

Canadians Buy Enstrom Copters

Jomac Air Associates Ltd. of Western Canada has ordered three more Enstrom F-28 3-place helicopters to be delivered as soon as possible. Jomac has now ordered 4 machines from Enstrom and indicates that several more will be ordered before 1965.

The machines will be used primarily in forest industry and construction industry.

Ann Landers

Posture Winner Told To Slouch

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 16-year-old, hazel-eyed, honey blonde who just happens to measure 40-22-36. I have plenty of boy friends but the girls at school are cold and unfriendly. This really does hurt me, Ann. Besides I get bored with boys all the time.

I asked a very nice girl in my gym class what is the matter with me. She said, "It's the way you walk."

When I was at summer camp a few years ago we practiced walking with books on our heads and now I am in the habit of walking with my head high and my shoulders pulled way back.

I won a posture award at school last year and I am very proud of it. The girl said I walk as if I am advertising myself. She suggested I slouch a little and hold some books or a purse in front of me.

Do you think this girl is right and that she gave me good advice?—LILA

Dear Lila: Some of the girls may not like the way you walk, but this is not your real problem. People respond to the way you treat them—this goes for girls as well as boys. If you make a genuine effort to show girls that you are interested in their friendship they will warm up to you.

P.S. Since you have already won the posture award, Doll, you might relax a little and not pull your shoulders back QUITE so much.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married for eight years to a man I loved and had faith in. We have three children and want more.

My husband's sister was my closest friend. I feel that she has done me a serious injustice and I'm heartsick over it. If I am wrong please tell me and I'll try to get over it.

Last week I found a lipstick in my husband's pocket. He confessed that he has been seeing another woman for about six months. His sister has been letting him bring this woman to her home during the afternoon.

Although I am shattered I have forgiven my husband and intend to give him every chance to straighten around. Now, what about my sister-in-law? Am I wrong to feel she was no friend to me? — BONNIE BELLE

Dear Bonnie Belle: By offering your husband the use of her home, your sister-in-law gave an affirmative nod, plus a helping hand, to the whole shoddy business. Tell her how you feel.

* * *

Dear Ann: I am a woman almost 60 and I am tired, tired, tired. My two daughters keep me on the brink of total exhaustion.

Last week I had their five children at my house over the weekend. The girls and their husband went off to play duplicate bridge. The three-year-old got into the kitchen cabinet and cut himself with a butcher knife. I had to rush him to the hospital for stitches. The 7-year-old fell down the stairs and raised a lump on his head the size of a tomato. The others fought with each other constantly.

At least four nights a week I am asked to sit with either one set of grandchildren or the other.

When my daughters entertain they expect me to bake rolls and cakes and pies. I am never invited to their homes as a guest. It's either "Come to sit. . . ." or "Come to cook and bake."

My husband gets furious with me because I am an easy mark. What can a mother say?—HELP NEEDED

Dear Needed: A mother can say, "Your kids are YOUR responsibility, just as you were mine. Please don't invite me to your homes to do your cooking or baking or to sit with your children. When I want to do something for you I will let you know. Thank you very much."

North Western Sells Stock In Rock Island RR

The Chicago & North Western Railway announces sale of its entire holdings of 214,000 shares of common stock of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad.

A North Western spokesman said the net proceeds of $6,250,000 would be added to the company's working capital.

"This sale does not indicate in any way a lessening of the North Western's interest in the Rock Island or of its intention ultimately to unify with it," the spokesman said. "The North Western intends vigorously to go forward with its offer for control of the Rock Island either as the offer is presently constituted or as it may be amended in the future, and it intends with equal vigor to oppose the Union Pacific's competing proposal.

"We have every expectation," the spokesman said, "that we will be successful before the Intertsate Commerce Commission." The North Western's application for control of the Rock Island has been pending before the Interstate Commerce Commission since July 1963.

Staff To Train Jobless Sought

LANSING (AP) — Some 2,000 unemployed but qualified persons are being sought by the Michigan Employment Security Commission for training as counselors and advisors to unemployed youth in Michigan.

Thomas Roumell, MESC director, said applications are being taken for men and women to take part in a training program of 8-10 weeks.

Preliminary tests to determine eligibility for the program will be held June 27, Roumell said. Training itself will begin July 13 at Wayne State University.

Some 20 universities in the nation are taking part in the overall project being conducted by the U.S. Dept. of Labor as part of President Johnson's "war on poverty."

As counselors and advisors, the 2,000 persons selected will interview youthful job seekers to refer them to work for which they are qualified or to training programs to develop skills.

"We want as many young men and women as possible to apply immediately at our branch offices throughout the state," said Roumell.

Visitors Praise Schools In Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Some of the 75 young Americans visiting Cuba despite U.S. bans on such travel are heaping praise on Cuban schools and scorn on those in the United States.

"These centers are superior to those which exist in the United States," said Anne Kramer, a UCLA student on a visit to a Havana kindergarten.

Tania Moore, a New York secretary, said of the same kindergarten, "My greatest wish would be to have my 4-year-old son, Bobby, in a place as magnificent as this."

MEMORIES OF PAST political campaigns are revived in a look through the files of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. Decorated with a few of the buttons and badges in the collection is Miss Lucy Teixeira, an employe of the institution. (AP Wirephoto)

Campaign Time Badges Blossom

By J.W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1964 crop of political campaign buttons is about to bloom in full flower.

It promises to surpass the showing of 1960, when an estimated 200 million buttons were distributed to proclaim which candidate the wearer wanted to see win.

Any casual visitor to the Republican National Convention next month can pick up a chest full in an hour; the same will be true at the August convention of the Democrats.

Display Setup

And this distinctive part of Americana has now come into its own, with the opening of a sprightly and scholarly display—complete with a torchlight parade—at the Smithsonian Institution.

For the first time, the Smithsonian's elaborate collection of presidential campaign buttons, banner and other paraphernalia has been given a showplace in the Hall of Historic Americana in the magnificent new Museum of History and Technology.

To set up the display, the Smithsonian curators, especially Herbert Collins, assistant curator, drew heavily from the collection donated by Ralph E. Becker, 57, a Washington lawyer and civic leader who has spent more than 30 years rounding up scarce items.

The collection, numbering around 30,000 items, reflects his interest in the colorful side of American politics.

Why do people like to wear buttons, badges and the like?

Becker told a reporter:

"'Well, there's the matter of showing allegiance. It's a form of hoopla. Like a cheering squad it helps drum up support for the team."

Traced To Antiquity

The National Geographic Society in a study it made of the phenomenon of campaign paraphernalia, traced the origin back to antiquity.

Among the findings:

Campaign banners waved in ancient Athens. Supporters of Roman candidates scrawled slogans on stone road markers.

Alexander the Great, in the 4th century B.C., sent silver buttons to constituents.

In the Smithsonian's striking new display, there's a real log cabin, signaling the start of the "Tippecanoe and Tyler too" hoopla of 1840.

There's a most life-like torchlight parade, typical of the time when marching Wideawakes boomed Abraham Lincoln in 1860, complete with banners and bandannas, and even including a boy and his dog, the boy up a tree waving a flag and the dog obviously contributing barks to the excitement.

Former Attorney For Hoffa Gets Prison Sentence

NASHVILLE, Tenn., (AP) — Z. T. Osborn Jr., former Nashville attorney for Teamsters president James R. Hoffa, was sentenced to 3½ years and fined $5,000 Friday on charges of jury tampering.

Osborn was convicted last month of offering to pay $10,000 to a prospective Hoffa juror to vote for acquittal.

U. S. Dist. Judge Marion Boyd of Memphis, said Osborn will remain free pending appeal.

Regents Adopt Big UM Budget

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University of Michigan Regents have approved a record budget of $147,277,386 for 1964-65 operations. This is about $12.7 million over fiscal 1963-64.

The budget includes a taxpayers' share of $44 million, up nearly six million from last year.

About $42 million includes grants and contracts for special projects from the federal government. There is also a $3,176,000 state appropriation for mental health activities.

Student fees from a record fall enrollment for 28,800 student will account for additional income. Enrollment is up about 1,400 from last year.

In other action, Regents named Reginald F. Malcolmson, 52, as dean of the College of Architecture and Design. He succeeds Philip N. Youtz, who retired. Malcolmson served the past 14 years as a professor of architecture at Illinois Institute of Technology.

Ilona Hattula Bride Of Richard Arntzen

All white gladiolus and carnations in altar arrangements formed the floral setting for the wedding of Ilona Maria Hattula, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. John E. Hattula, 713 S. Ray St., New Castle, Pa., and Richard Leonard Arntzen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Leonard Arntzen, Escanaba Rte. 1.

The ceremony took place at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Escanaba and was performed by the bride's father, who also gave her in marriage, assisted by Pastor Gordon Thorpe. The reception was held immediately following the service in the social hall of the church.

The bride was attired in a floor length sheath of imported silk organza over taffeta, styled with scooped neckline and long sleeves which formed points over the wrist. Alencon lace applique outlined the neckline and extended down the front. A very full detachable overskirt flowed gracefully into a chapel train. A pillbox, with the lace applique, tipped with pearls, held her bouffant veil of silk illusion which was fingertip in length. Her flowers were a cluster of white carnations with cascading ivy foliage.

Matron of honor for her sister, Mrs. Robert (Ruth) Hill of Ishpeming, was attired in a gold floor length controlled sheath of silk organza over taffeta, worn with a removeable jacket with kimono sleeves and bateau neckline. Her headpiece was a gold floral beehive with bird-cage nose veiling. She wore shoes to match, lace gloves and crystal earrings and she carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, centered with carnations tinted the color of her dress.

Rainbow Shades

In the rainbow color theme of the wedding, the maid of honor, another sister, Miss Rachel Hattula, of New Castle, was in an identical ensemble of pale blue, bridesmaids, Miss Judith Blomquist of Iron Mountain, and Miss Diane Blomquist of Felch, both college friends, were in mint green and coral pink. The headpieces were designed and made by the matron of honor.

The bride's young cousins, Catherine Bebinger of Chicago and Mary Elen Hattula of Elmhurst, Ill., served as flower girls and ring bearer was Mark R. Hill, Ishpeming, nephew of the bride. Catherine and Mary Ellen were in dresses of white organza over pale blue taffeta. They wore floral headpieces and carried nosegays of blue carnations, edged in white.

Best man was William C. Norton, Manistique, a fraternity brother of the bridegroom. Serving as groomsmen were another fraternity bother, Clifford Olsson of Marquette, Robert L. Hill and the bride's brother, John M. Hattula, New Castle. The guests were seated by Robert Anderson, Escanaba, and Donald Westby, Dearborn, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Music Of Ceremony

The solos by Jack Wicklund of Crystal Falls, widely known vocalist, who performed the male leads in musicals opposite the bride during her years at Northern Michigan University, were "The Greatest of These I Love" by R. Bitgood, "The Wedding Prayer," F. G. Dunlap, and "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte.

Mrs. Pearl St. Clair, organist, played a pre-nuptial recital as the guests were assembling, including "Take Thou My Hand and Lead Me," Weinhorst, Psalm 19 by B. Marcello, "Let Us Ever Walk With Jesus," Hillert, "St. Anthony Chorale," Brahms, and "Sinfonia" by Bach. Her processional was composed of two numbers, "Trumpet Voluntary" by Clarke as the attendants entered, and "Trumpet Tune," H. Purcell, as the bride entered with her father. The recessional was Handel's "Allegro Maestoso."

Wedding bulletins for all the guests, designed by the bride, were done by her father.

Mrs. Hattula attended her daughter's wedding and received guests in a light blue ribbon knit sheath with which she wore peony pink accessories and a corsage of garnette roses and white carnations. Mrs. Arntzen wore beige accessories with her azalea pink suit. Her corsage was white carnations with pink sweetheart roses.

Reception Aides

Pastel shades of carnations and snapdragons were arranged in the reception centerpiece. Mrs. Donald Westby and Mrs. Clifford Olsson presided at the silver services, Miss Alene Blomquist of Iron Mountain and Miss Kathy Bennett, Escanaba, opened gifts, Miss Linda Palmgren of Bark River served punch and the guest book was in charge of Mrs. Robert Anderson, Escanaba.

Mrs. Arntzen and his bride are touring Wisconsin during their honeymoon. They will reside, during the coming year, in Marquette.

The former Miss Hattula is a graduate of John D. Pierce High School, Marquette, Suomi College in Hancock and Northern Michigan University, Marquette, where she received a B.A. degree in music in 1963. She was a member of the Masquers Club, Kappa Delta Pi, National Honor Society, Community Symphony, Choir, Chamber Orchestra and Art Chorale. She participated in the lead roles of university musical productions and received several musical scholarships, including those of the Marquette Music Club and Northwoods Symphony. She was recipient of the Music Departmental award upon graduation and was a participant in 1961 in the Marion Anderson auditions in Philadelphia.

Manager Trainee

Since graduation she has been vocal music instructor in Mount Clemens and will continue her teaching career in Marquette.

Mr. Arntzen, a graduate of Escanaba High School and Northern Michigan University, was active in several organizations, including the Cambium Club, Michigan Junior Academy of Arts and Sciences and the 'N' Club. He was prominent in track and received several scholarships while attending the university. He is founder and an affiliate of Phi Theta Pi Fraternity. Presently he is employed by Montgomery Word & Co. as a manager trainee and has been assigned to the Marquette store for a period of one year.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Bark River, Big Rapids, Clarkston, Crystal Falls, Dearborn, Detroit, Felch, Gladstone, Grosse Pointe, Negaunee, Newberry, Ontonagon and Trout Creek, in Michigan, Chicago, Elmhurst and Niles, Ill., Green Bay, Menasha, New Berlin, Union City and Waukesha, Wis., and points in Minnesota, Pennsylvania, California, South Carolina and Washington.

The rehearsal dinner Friday evening was at Kallio's.

Opportunty Camp Planned By Adventists

Seventh-day Adventist Church will open an "Opportunity Camp" in the Upper Peninsula this summer at Clear Lake in Schoolcraft County, announces Pastor Erhard, district leader for the church.

This is a camp for underprivileged children and will relieve the over-crowding and transportation problems of the two camps in the Lower Peninsula. Several will be chosen by the Social Welfare Department to attend from this area.

The name "Opportunity" was chosen rather than "Underprivileged" to remove any embarrassment on the part of children or parents.

FARM SAFETY

"Safer American Families Everywhere" is the theme of the 21st annual National Farm Saftey Week July 19-25, according to Richard G. Pfister, extension safety engineer at Michigan State University.

Karen E. Strom Wed To Charles Lindquist

The Rev. D. Douglas Seleen solemnized the double ring ceremony Saturday, June 20, at 4:30 p.m. in First United Presbyterian Church for Miss Karen Elaine Strom and Charles Norman Lindquist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wheaton L. Strom, 317 S. 6th St., and Dr. and Mrs. Norman L. Lindquist, 1815 Lake Shore Drive.

Organist of the wedding service was Mrs. Helene Merki of Gladstone.

Miss Karen Lindquist, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and a brother, Jack Lindquist, served as best man. Ushering were Tom Butch of Gladstone and Robert Rosemurgy.

The bride was attired in a white cotton lace sheath dress with matching jacket. Her accessories were yellow and her corsage was white and yellow carnations and roses. Her attendant's two piece dress was yellow, her accessories were white, and she also wore a yellow and white corsage.

Mrs. Strom wore blue accessories with her light blue two-piece dress. Mrs. Lindquist was in aqua with white accessories. Their corsages were pink and white roses and carnations.

A dinner for the wedding party and members of the two families was served in the Marine Room of the House of Ludington.

The couple, after a motor tour around Lake Michigan, will live at 919 1st Ave. S., during the Summer months.

The former Miss Strom was graduated this year from the University of Michigan. Mr. Lindquist received his B. A. from the University of Michigan in 1961 and his Master's from the University of Wisconsin this year.

Jean Lynn Aronson, Ralph Peterson Wed

Miss Jean Lynn Aronson and Ralph Bror Kenneth Peterson repeated their marriage vows in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Dr. Walfred E. Nelson Saturday, June 20, at 7:30 p.m. at Bethany Lutheran Church in Escanaba.

The newlyweds greeted 250 guests at a reception immediately following the wedding service in Bethany's social rooms.

Attendants for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur V. Aronson, 315 S. 3rd St., Escanaba, and the son of Mrs. Oscar Peterson of Chicago and the late Mr. Peterson, were all graduates of Augustana College, alma mater of the couple.

Mrs. F. J. Strieter of Dallas, Tex., was matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Caryl Knutson of Chicago, Mrs. Robert Johnson of Lawrence, Kan., and Miss Joan Lindstrom of New York City. Best man was Roland Larson, Lincolnwood, Ill., and groomsmen were Roy Olson of Chicago, a cousin of the bridegroom, Kenneth Collinson of Forest Park, Ill., and Kenneth Knutson, Chicago.

Completing the bridal party was the bride's young niece, Susan Strieter of Dallas, who wore a floor length white organdy dress with a pink sash and a pearl teardrop crown for her role of flower girl. Pink and white rosebuds were in the basket she carried.

The bride's sheath of white imported heavy Brussel lace was trimmed with pure silk peau de soie with a detachable peau de soie cathedral train. Her three tiered illusion veil was caught to a high Swedish pearl crown. She carried a white rose bouquet.

The matron of honor and bridesmaids wore floor length dresses of pink Italian silk, with flowing back panel and bow trim. They carried arrangements of long-stemmed white roses.

Mrs. Aronson chose a rose pink jacket dress with matching accessories and Mrs. Peterson wore yellow with white accessories. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Frank Aronson attended the wedding in a pale blue three piece suit with which she wore white accessories and a pink and white corsage.

The newlyweds will be at home at 1623 W. Chase, Chicago, following their honeymoon. The bride, a member of Chi Omega Gamma at Augustana, is teaching speech correction in Skokie, Ill. Mr. Peterson received his degrees from Augustana and Northwestern University Law School. His fraternity is Phi Upsilon Gamma.

Mrs. Ralph Bror Kenneth Peterson (Lee's Studio)

Vivian Lyman Is Fiancee Of Edward Henriksen

Mr. and Mrs. Rankin Lyman of South Haven have announced the engagement of their daughter, Vivian Jean, to Edward C. Henriksen, son of Mrs. Edwin C. Henriksen of 906 2nd Ave. S., Escanaba, and the late Mr. Henriksen.

The wedding will take place Aug. 22 in St. Basil's Church in South Haven.

Miss Lyman, a graduate of South Haven High School, received her Bachelor of Science degree from Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, and now is taking graduate work at Oakland University. She currently is teaching at Clintondale High School in Mt. Clemens.

Mr. Henriksen received his Bachelor of Science degree from Northern Michigan University, Marquette and is doing graduate work at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti. He is a member of the faculty of Anchor Bay High School in New Baltimore.

Births

GOSS—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Goss, 3708 Baybrook Drive, Drayton Plains, Mich., are the parents of a daughter, born on Father's Day, June 21, at 7 a.m. in Pontiac General Hospital. The infant, who weighed 8 pounds at birth, is their fourth child. Mrs. Goss is the former Helen Joy Nelson of Escanaba, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Nelson.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

District Nurses Meet Tuesday

Delta District Nurses Association will meet Tuesday evening, June 23, at the camp of Mrs. Otto Hult on the Stonington Peninsula. A report on the American Nurses Association will be given by Miss Elizabeth Nelson, who was one of the Upper Peninsula nurses at its sessions. All nurses of the area are invited.

Watchdog

A watchdog that's always on guard to protect you . . . that's one of the many roles the telephone plays in your life.

For your telephone is constantly on duty, ready to help you in little emergencies and big ones—when a call to the doctor, the fire department, or the police may be urgent.

It's hard to imagine what life would be like without a telephone watchdog to sound a call for help when trouble arises.

And, at all times, "man's best friend" (and woman's, too) is a constant companion. It helps you keep in touch with family and friends and saves you hundreds of steps.

The telephone is still one of the biggest bargains in your family budget. Use it often.

Lindquist Named Phi Beta Kappa At Michigan State

EAST LANSING — Michael A. Lindquist of Bark River RFD 2, has been elected to the Michigan State University chapter of Phi Kappa Phi.

A national scholastic honorary, Phi Kappa Phi offers high recognition to outstanding students in all academic fields. One hundred eighty-three juniors and seniors with high grade point averages recently were initiated into the MSU chapter. Seven graduate students and eight faculty members also were elected to membership.

Other U.P. initiates are Jane Eilola, Pelkie; Richard Sauter, Ironwood; Marlys Bacon, Hancock; Charlene Graves, Ingalls.

Educators Meet On Teen Smoking

Educators from throughout the state will begin a two-day parley at Haven Hill Tuesday to finalize a smoking prevention program for all Michigan schools.

Their aim is to incorporate into a smoking education guide ideas culled from both pupils and teachers in some 100 Michigan schools where a "pilot program" was tried out in recent months.

The effort is an outgrowth of a similar session held last summer at Wayne State University when the state's first comprehensive program for teaching school children the health hazards in cigarette smoking was drafted.

Henry Ford II To Wed In Italy

LONDON (AP)—Henry Ford II and Mrs. Christina Austin plan to marry in Italy next October, says the Daily Sketch.

The London newspaper said Mrs. Austin, an Italian and the widow of a British naval officer, "has told friends that the wedding will most likely be in Milan where she has a home."

The American automobile magnate's first wife, socialite Anne McDonnell, divorced him last February.

Newspaper want ads are a big sell! Eight hundred million was spent on classified ads last year . . more than for all television spot announcements or radio advertising.

Negroes Won't OK Goldwater

DETROIT (AP)—Two Negro Michigan delegates to the Republican National Convention say they will vote against Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater both at the convention and—if Goldwater wins the presidential nomination—at the polls in November.

Their views were shared by two Negroes among Michigan alternates and by Leo A. Green of Flint, Gov. George W. Romney's special assistant for minority group relations.

"Goldwater does not reflect the majority thinking of the Republican party any more than Gov. (George) Wallace of Alabama represents the thinking of the Democratic majority," said Greene. "Nevertheless, Goldwater has chilled the chances for balanced participation of Negroes in both political parties."

"I have been an active Republican for 25 years, but I would be a traitor to my race if I supported him (Goldwater)," said A. B. Chennault Sr., a Detroit real estate broker and a member of Michigan's 48-member GOP delegation.

Chennault was treasurer of Romney's successful campaign in 1962.

Freighter Burns At Hoboken Dock

HOBOKEN, N.J. (AP)—Firemen kept watch over the smoking ruins of No. 2 hold on the Grace Lines freighter Santa Ana today while Coast Guard officials prepared to try to find out what caused the day-long blaze.

The fire, which almost caused the docked vessel to capsize, was brought under control 10 hours after it broke out Sunday.

Sixteen firemen were injured.

Soviet Industry Continues To Lag

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd claims Soviet industry "is lagging further and further behind the West" and is "growing more dependent on it."

The Soviet Union is suffering from shortages of copper, tin, nickel and lead, the Connecticut Democrat said Sunday, and increased East-West trade "may well be a matter of survival" for the Communist nation.

Mullendore Will Head Publicity On Conservation

Top-level reorganization of the Michigan Department of Conservation is complete with appointment of William J. Mullendore as chief public information officer, Director Ralph A. MacMullan has announced.

A veteran newsman whose background includes more than a dozen years as a Michigan outdoor writer, Mullendore will join the Department's staff on June 29 as the director's special assistant on public affairs.

"In this position, new to the department, he will be responsible for the explanation and interpretation of our programs to the people of Michigan," MacMullan said.

MacMullan added that Farley F. Tubbs will continue to head up the Department's educational services with full responsibility for streamlining and developing programs in this area. The former assistant deputy director for information and education will also retain supervision over the general operations of the section's personnel.

New York Bans No-Top Bathers

NEW YORK (AP) — Women who wear topless bathing suits on the city's beaches will be arrested, says Parks Commissioner Newbold Morris.

A woman wearing such a suit Morris said Sunday, can expect a policeman to come up with a blanket, cover her, take her to a police station, and give her a summons.

Strikes Useful In Bargaining, Henry Ford Says

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Henry Ford II, whose Ford Motor Co. soon starts new contract negotiations with the United Auto Workers, Union, said today willingness to accept a strike is "part of the price" of preserving "free and responsible collective bargaining."

"There seems to be a widespread assumption," Ford said, "that government and public opinion will no longer tolerate strikes in major industries and therefore that a real strike in the automotive industry is out of the question this year.

"I am convinced that responsible bargaining is most unlikely if the very possibility of a strike is ruled out from the beginning. Willingness on the part of the public, government and management to accept a strike, if necessary, is part of the price we must pay for the preservation of free and responsible collective bargaining — whether that willingness is ever put to the test or not.

"The best and probably the only effective way to prevent (one party's) over - reaching is to preserve the possibility that a strike may occur."

Ford made the observations in a speech prepared for the American Society of Corporate Secretaries.

The Ford Co. chairman, declaring his company was "more concerned this year than ever before" by the UAW's "preliminary barrage" on contract objectives, pledged that Ford would try to reach a settlement "peacefully, if possible."

He then discussed his position on a strike as part of responsible bargaining in explaining his use of the term "peacefully if possible."

Ford's company and the United Auto Workers begin new contract bargaining just nine days hence. Current three-year pacts between the UAW and the Big Three — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler — all run out Aug. 31.

The UAW has adopted a wide range of goals that include earlier retirement and higher pensions, a shorter workweek and higher wages, and improved working conditions that would include at least two 10 - minute "coffee breaks" each eight - hour shift.

O'Neil Opposes New Dunes Park

James F. O'Neil, Republican candidate for U.S. Senator, has come out in opposition to federalizing the Sleeping Bear Dunes State Park. O'Neil said that the proposed establishment of a 77,000 avre federal park was all out of proportion to need since it would be 600 per cent larger than the Huron-Clinton System of parks serving the millions of people in Southeastern Michigan.

In addition, the establishment of such a mammoth park would undermine the local school districts and the local government. O'Neil stated that there are already 7,000,000 acres of publicly owned land in Michigan and the federal government already owns 33 per cent of all the land in the United States

O'Neil spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club in Traverse City today.

Jerry Olson Is Awarded Degree

A record number of 2,211 persons were awarded degrees at Wayne State University's commencement exercises at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, June 18, in Detroit's Cobo Hall. The 2,211 total of graduates compares with the previous high of 2,142 winning degrees last June.

A local student listed is Jerry L. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Olson, 627 17th St., Bachelor of Arts degree.

Augustana Builds

Owner Ticketed In Teen Mishap

City police ticketed Merrill F. Gravelle, 1207 1st Ave. N. for allowing an unlicensed minor to drive a motor vehicle following an accident at 9:43 p.m. Saturday at the A. & W. Root Beer Stand. The minor, a 15-year old Escanaba boy, was ticketed for operating a car without an operator license and for abetting, falsification of a police report.

The minor, driving Gravelle's auto, backed out of a stall at the A. & W. and struck an auto owned by Louis J. Koth, 611 S. 23rd St. and then made a report to police that his car had been damaged by a hit and run vehicle.

The Koth vehicle had a front headlight broken and left front fender dented.

Four Boys Tow Water Ski Rider

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Sunday motorists passing a shallow irrigation ditch stared in amazement at five youngsters' disdain of the machine age.

Two of them were running along each side of the eight-foot ditch at top speed, towing a fifth youngster riding grandly on water skis.

Briefly Told

Richard Deneau, 17, route 1 Escanaba, was arrested over the weekend for being a minor in possession of beer. He will be arraigned this afternoon before Justice A. J. Mortier in Gladstone.

Mary Kutches, 1600 Stephenson Ave., reported to sheriff's officers that she struck and killed a deer when it jumped in front of her car on US-2-41 near Pioneer Trail Park at 2 a.m. Sunday. The Conservation Dept. was notified.

A. G. Henderson, route 1, Bark River, reported to sheriff's officers that his new 14 foot aluminum boat with V-bottom and the name "Lake Fisher" on the side, has been missing from his property on M-35 since Friday. Anyone locating the boat is asked to notify the Sheriff's Dept.

Gary Severinsen, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Severinsen, 409 south 7th Street, has been placed on the Dean's honor list of students at St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn. Severinsen, a sophomore next year, maintained a high scholastic average during the past semester. He is a 1963 graduate of Holy Name High School.

Joyce Trottier, 39, of 1820 First Avenue south, was ticketed by Delta county Sheriff's officers for failing to have her car under control following an accident in which she missed a curve and ran her car into the ditch on County road 441 near Danforth at 11:30 p.m. Saturday. There was slight damage to the auto but no personal injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Flath, from Advanced Electric, 1211 Ludington St., are flying to St. Charles, Ill., Tuesday to attend the Frigidaire Products Display for all midwest dealers. The event is being staged at the beautiful Pheasant Run Lodge, where, as an entertainment feature, William Bendix will appear in person with his Playhouse.

Art Berndt, 38, of route 1, Gladstone, was taken to St. Francis Hospital by ambulance Saturday at 5 p.m. and kept overnight for observation after a mishap while skin diving near the Gladstone Yacht Club pier. Berndt told State Police that he got water in his face mask while diving and after clearing it he forgot to clear his air hose, thus swallowing a large amount of water. He was released from the hospital Sunday.

ROY SUNDQUIST, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sundquist, Escanaba Route 1, was graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree from North Park College, Chicago, June 15. His parents attended the commencement ceremonies.

Illinois Man Pays Fines For Spoiling Gardens

Harold Leisner, 19, of Rockford, Ill., paid fines of $25 for destruction of private property and $25 for being drunk in and about an automobile, when he waived examination before Justice A. J. Mortier, Sunday in Gladstone.

He was arrested by Sheriff's deputies Sunday at 12:55 a.m. near Danforth after he ran through newly-made gardens with his auto. Leisner was also ordered to make restitution of $50 for the destruction of the property.

Germfask Lady Pleads Guilty To Gun Charge

MANISTIQUE — Mrs. Fred (Christina) Lorenz, 60, of Germfask, entered a plea of guilty today in Justice Court on a charge of intentionally, but without malice, pointing a gun at highway department workmen trying to remove a sign from their M 77 service station.

A fine of $50 and costs of $4.30 were assessed by Justice Howard Magoon, the alternative was 10 days in jail.

Mrs. Lorenz said she didn't know why she did it, but felt that the gas station business would be severely harmed if the sign were removed.

Jim Bunning Is Perfect

New Breed Witnesses Sweetest Of Sights

By The Associated Press

New York Met fans thought they'd seen it all—Marvelous Marv Throneberry, a 32-inning doubleheader, you name it—until a slim sidewinder from Southgate, Ky., came along and treated the New Breed to the sweetest sight of all—perfection.

Jim Bunning

And, as Philadelphia's Jim Bunning set down Met after Met in the first flawless pitching performance in modern National League history—a 6-0, no-hit, no-base runner masterpiece in the first game of a Sunday doubleheader—the Shea Stadium faithful were caught up in the wonder of it all.

They forgot to root for the home team.

The fans were with Bunning all the way and the 32-year-old right-hander, an NL newcomer after nine years with Detroit, didn't let them down. Pinpointing an assortment of curve balls and sliders, he retired each of the 27 batters he faced, a feat last accomplished by Don Larsen of the New York Yankees in a 1956 World Series game.

Charlie Robertson pitched a regular season perfect game for the Chicago White Sox in 1922. Pittsburgh's Harvey Haddix hurled 12 perfect innings against Milwaukee in 1959 but lost the game 1-0 on a 13th inning hit. A National League pitcher hadn't won a perfect game since 1880.

Bunning also became the first to win no-hitters in each league, having blanked Boston in 1958 for the Tigers.

The Mets, not to be denied entirely, found a place in the record book, too. Their three hits in the nightcap, won by the Phils 8-2, tied the low hit total for a doubleheader.

While Bunning was spinning his gem for the league-leading Phillie, the rest of the league went about its business with surprising, though less spectacular results.

Houston climbed into seventh place and sent Milwaukee reeling to ninth with 5-2 and 5-4 victories over the Braves. Chicago swept a twin bill from Pittsburgh 2-1 and 7-2. Los Angeles split with Cincinnati, winning 4-2 and losing 2-1. San Francisco trimmed St. Louis 7-3 in a single game.

Bunning — and everyone else —credited Phils' second baseman Tony Taylor with the game's fielding gem. Taylor dove to stop Jesse Gonder's fifth inning bid in the hole and threw Gonder out from a kneeling position.

Elsewhere, Houston's Rusty Staub went on a four-hit, two-homer spree against Warren Spahn and two successors in the opener with Milwaukee. Second game homers by winning pitcher Ken Johnson and Joe Gaines helped the Colts sweep the four-game set and hand the Braves their sixth straight setback.

Larry Jackson pitched a three-hitter, retiring the last 22 Pirates in order, and drove in both Chicago runs in the opener. Lew Burdette allowed five hits through seven innings in the second game before yielding to Lindy McDaniel.

Sandy Koufax became the second NL pitcher to win 10 games, checking Cincinnati in the first game with the help of Frank Howard, who drove in two runs with a single and his 15th homer. Vada Pinson doubled and Deron Johnson homered in the first inning of the nightcap for the Reds' margin.

Hal Lanier, son of the former NL pitcher, collected four of San Francisco's 13 hits, including his first major league homer. Wille Mays followed the rookie's shot with his 22nd circuit.

Teams Remain Tied In Race For LL Flag

Tonight - Rotary at Bankers

Visiting teams picked up three wins in a torrid weekend of Little League play. In the opener Saturday the league leading Credit Union withstood a last inning rally by the Eagles to win 4 to 3. The mid-afternoon game proved to be a real cliff hanger with opposing pitchers Doug Howard and Dave Moberg retiring with the score tied at 1-all in the regulation six innings. In the top of the eighth the Vets put together a couple of hits with two errors to score the winning run.

In the day's finale, Rotary had the Lions on the ropes until the Lions exploded for six runs in the fourth to win 8 to 7 and move back into a tie for first place.

Junior Golf Program Set

Registration will be held Thursday for the junior golf program at the Escanaba Country Club, Pro Jim Crichton announced today.

Boys and girls from 7 to 9 will register at 9 a.m.; from 10 to 12 year olds will register at 9:30 and the 13 and 14 year olds will register at 10. Registration fee is $1.

Lessons will begin June 30 and continue on the four Thursdays in July with the tournament scheduled for Aug. 10,11 and 12. A party will be held and trophies presented on the final day of the tourney.

In charge of the program are co-chairmen Mrs. Don Goulais and Mrs. Dick Knoll, Mrs. William Mulvaney and Mrs. Robert Barron.

McKinley May Be Sidelined

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) —Officials of the Wimbledon Tennis Tournament considered today whether to bar Chuck McKinley from playing—just as he was about to start the defense of his title.

The American Davis Cup star from San Antonio, Tex., was in trouble over a feature advertised for next week's Sunday Times. Competitors are forbidden to write for newspapers during the two weeks of the tournament, which begins today.

The Times said Sunday that it will print a discussion between McKinley, Jack Kramer and Gardner Mulloy on brightening the game and taming the big serve.

Tomas Lejus, 25-year-old tennis champion of the Soviet Union, led the Russian contingent in their strongest-ever assault on the Wimbledon Championships today.

The fair-haired Estonian was the talk of British tennis fans as the championships promoted by the All-England Club got under way.

He staged a pre-Wimbledon sensation by gaining the final round of the London Queen's club last week. Roy Emerson of Australia, 3-1 favorite for the Wimbledon title, beat him 12-10, 6-4 in the final last Saturday after a hard struggle.

Lejus's success at the Queen's Club made it clear that the Russians are now a tennis power to be reckoned with.

Tiger Pitcher Defeats Twins Fourth In Row

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — If the Detroit Tigers could make Dave Wickersham- vs. -the Minnesota Twins a daily diet, their task would be a simple one.

Wickersham, pitching shutout ball for eight innings, beat the Twins Sunday 4-2 for his fourth straight victory over power-packed Minnesota.

The triumph, saved at the last out by reliever Ed Rakow after the Twins scored twice in the ninth inning, gave the Tigers the series 2-1 and the satisfaction of a good start on this long road trip.

The Tigers move now to Kansas City for two games with the Athletics Tuesday and Wednesday and go thence to New York to dare the fired up Yankees in a three-game series. Today was an open date.

Wickersham, allowing only three hits until he weakened in the ninth, made his career record against the Twins 11-3 overpowering a team that was on the muscle after a tongue-lashing from its boss.

The Twins had gone into the game after a scathing public rebuke on the radio by owner Cal Griffith. Griffith accused the team of lackadaisical performance and threatened fines for all future offenders.

Along with Wickersham's victory, the Tigers also had other cause to celebrate — the perfect game of former teammate Jim Bunning, pitched for the Philadelphia Phillies against the New York Mets Sunday.

Bunning's big one was the talk of the Tiger club house. The Tigers traded off Bunning to the Phils last year.

Manager Charlie Dressen himself, who recommended the deal, said it was a great effort by his former right-hander.

With a 4-0 lead, Wickersham went into the ninth almost a cinch bet to wrap it up by himself.

The Tigers had put over three runs for him in the first inning, with Bill Freehan's double and George Thomas' two-run single as the big blows, and Bubba Phillips slugged a 360-foot homer in the seventh. Thus Detroit manufactured four runs on a total of only seven hits off three Twins pitchers.

With one out in the ninth, Tony Oliva wrecked Wickersham's shutout by blasting a homer. After Harmon Killibrew rolled out, a walk and two quick singles followed for a second run. Rakow came in at that point and retired Joe McCabe on a fly ball.

Gharrity Wins Highland Golf Medal Tourney

Marty Gharrity of Marquette, former Northern Michigan University and University of Wisconsin sports star, captured the Highland Golf Club's first annual medal invitational tournament over the weekend with a torrid 27 hole total of 103.

Garrity was five under par on rounds of 35, 35, and 33 to win by six strokes over Elmer Swanson of the Escanaba Country Club who fired 37-35-37—109. Jerry Martin of Highland was third with a 110 and Tony Cass of the Country Club fourth with 111.

Jack Smith of the host club was opening round medalist in the field of 51 golfers Saturday with a blazing 34-35—69.

Jerry Harris of Highland was the first flight winner with a 75 and John R. Kelley of Manistique topped the second flight with an 83.

The tourney results:

Championship Flight

Gharrity 103, Swanson 109, Martin 110, Cass 111, Jim Strong, Ontonagon, 116, Mel Manske, Highland, 117; Don Feller, Escanaba, 118; Jim Douglas, Highland, 119.

Teamsters Rally For 7-6 Victory

Teamsters scored five runs in the seventh inning to nip Kiwanis 7-6 in Babe Ruth baseball action Saturday.

Dick Niemi's two out double drove in two runs for the margin of victory. John Stacey homered for the winners and Bob Irish led Kiwanis with two doubles and a single.

Stacey, Dick LaChapelle and Niemi shared the Teamster mound while John Way tossed for Kiwanis.

Bunning's Flawless Game Is Preserved By Taylor

NEW YORK (AP) — The bright-eyed little girl with the blonde curls and the big smile sat behind home plate on a Father's Day doubleheader at Shea Stadium and listened to the fans talk about Jim Bunning and his quest for a perfect game.

"That's my daddy," 12-year-old Barbara Bunning told any who cared to listen while her 32-year-old father toiled against the New York Mets.

Then, after slim Jim fired a third strike past Met pinch hitter John Stephenson for the 27th consecutive out and the first National League perfect game in 84 years, Barbara and her mother made their way through the crowd to the playing field.

To the delight of photographers Barbara gave her beaming father a big kiss. Bunning beamed even more.

"It's a wonderful feeling," the Philadelphia right-hander said after the 6-0 victory. "I still can't believe it. I feel wonderful, just wonderful."

"He had everything," catcher Gus Triandos said. "Good fast ball, good slider, good curve. His curve was his best pitch. Most of his strikeouts, maybe all of them, came on the curve."

Bunning, who also pitched a no-hitter in the American League as a member of the Detroit Tigers, struck out 10 Mets in his Sunday masterpiece. He went to a 3-2 count on only two batters but had his pitching gem preserved by a great play by second baseman Tony Taylor in the fifth.

The play came on a wicked grounder smashed in the hole between first and second by Jesse Gonder. Taylor made a diving stop of it and threw out the runner from his knees.

"What a play," Bunning shouted. "What a play that Taylor made."

Bunning said that was when he sensed that the masterpiece was within reach. "I told 'em to dive for everything," he said. But there wasn't the need for another. He continued to methodically set the Mets down in order while the tension mounted.

Then came the ninth and the 32,904 rabid Met fans suddenly became Bunning boosters. He got Charlie Smith to foul out. Pinch hitter George Altman struck out. Then came two quick strikes on Stephenson. The next two pitches missed before Bunning bent a curve past the hitter to create a flock of firsts, including:

The first National League perfect game since 1880.

The first regular season major league perfect game in 42 years

The first pitcher of the modern era to pitch a perfect game in both major leagues.

Harvey Haddix of Pittsburgh pitched 12 innings of perfect ball against Milwaukee in 1959, but lost in the 13th inning. Don Larsen of the New York Yankees pitched a perfect game in the 1956 World Series against Brooklyn.

"I was aware I was pitching a perfect game from the fifth inning on," the 6-foot-3, 190-pounder said. "I kidded about it on the bench and the boys kidded right back. Jinx? I don't believe in jinxes."

The jinx reference was to an old baseball superstition that a pitcher does not mention a no-hitter while he is working on one.

Bunning came to the major leagues in 1955 with the Detroit Tigers and, in nine seasons, compiled a record of 118-87, including a 20-game victory season in 1957. He was traded to the Phils, along with Triandos, last winter. The victory was his seventh against two losses this season.

Name AL Starters

New Faces Set For Star Game

NEW YORK (AP)—Not a single 1963 starter returned to the American League All-Star opening line-up which will face the National League's best on July 7 at Shea Stadium, in New York.

Three New York Yankees, three Minnesota Twins and one each from the Los Angeles Angels and Baltimore Orioles made up the starting team, exclusive of the pitcher, chosen by a vote of 281 league players, coaches and managers.

Second baseman Bobby Richardson, who drew 233 votes, the most of any player, headed the Yankee contingent, which included catcher Elston Howard, 217 votes, and center fielder Mickey Mantle, 205 votes.

Mantle was named to the 1963 starting team but a broken leg kept him from playing. His place was taken by runner-up Albie Pearson of the Angels.

The Minnesota trio included first baseman Bob Allison, 80 votes, left fielder Harmon Killerew, 129, and right fielder Tony Oliva, 176.

Jim Fregosi, who beat out Baltimore's Luis Aparicio for the shortstop bert, 161 votes to 72, was the Angels' representative. Brooks Robinson of Baltimore won the third base nomination hands down, beating Frank Melzone of Boston, 220 to 21.

Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox, is the manager. The White Sox did not even place a runner-up in any position.

Commissioner Ford Frick, whose office conducted the balloting, said the National League starting line-up will be announced Tuesday. The remainder of the squads, including the pitchers, will be announced later.

The American League holds a slim edge, 17 victories to 16 with one game ending in a tie. The National League won last year's game at Cleveland, 5-3.

Beauties Keep Lead In Golf

The Bermuda Beauties continue to lead the Escanaba Country Club women's league for the second consecutive week with 24 points, a half point ahead of Fitz's Witches.

Low scores for the day were Rosemary LeMire with 43, Marie Wicklander 46, Lou Berglund and Ruth Needham 47, Dorothy Anderson, Harriet Fitzharris and Doris Swanson 48, Gloria Hansley 49 and Betty Gauthier and Sally Fontaine 50.

Winners of the day's event were Ruth Dufresne, Corrine Leitzmann, Lois Thompson, Joan Vinette, Peg Poffenberger, Mary Sue Boyce and Rosemary LeMire.

Standings: Bermuda Beauties 24; Fitz's Witches 23½; The Whips 22½; Peg-Legs 18½; Ruth Needs-Um 16½; Handy Andys 16; Sally's Sockers 14½; Burning Wicks 12; Lucky Six 11½; Dube's Duffers 11.

No-Hitter, Cubs Beaten In Waubung Loop Action

Results Sunday
Pow-Herm 4, Escanaba 3
Manistique 2, Menominee 1

The defending league champion suffered a setback and a youthful Manistique pitcher fired a no-hit gem in weekend Waubung baseball action.

The Powers - Hermansville team turned the trick on the Esky Cubs, defending titlist, by a 4-3 margin at the Al Ness Field.

Jon Cameron wrote his name in the league record book with a no-hitter as Manistique edged Menominee 2-1.

Powers - Hermansville snapped Escanaba's two game winning streak with an early hitting rampage. Coach Bob Smith's club shoved three runs home in the third inning as Mike Moran, Ron Povolo, Harry Gordon and Jim Haight stroked singles. The fourth Pow-Herm run was scored in the fourth when Moran, safe on a fielder's choice, scored with two out on a passed-ball.

In spite of six Pow-Herm errors, Escanaba was able to tally only singletons in the second, fourth and seventh innings.

Dennis McClure scattered six hits, fanned six batsmen and walked one for the mound decision. Jim Boyle started for Escanaba and was relieved by Mike Gafner with one out in the third. The visitors collected nine hits off the Cub pitchers.

Cameron blazed the third strike past seven Menominee batsmen. The tall chucker granted five walks and one of them spoiled his shutout.

Coach Norman Jahn's team scored both its runs in the fifth inning. Cameron started things with a single and Wayne Sample duplicated it. A fielder's choice failed to get the runner at third and the bases were loaded when David Barton drew a walk to force in Cameron. Sample came home on a sacrifice fly to center field by Jerry Belleville.

Menominee's run came in the fourth inning when Don Anderson drew a walk, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and crossed the plate on a passed-ball.

Manistique reached two Menominee pitchers for six hits. Ken Baiel went the first five innings and Jack Paitle finished up.

Yankees Snatch American League First Position

By The Associated Press

Bo Belinsky's mouth says he wants to go to Hawaii, but his left arm isn't helping buy the ticket.

Belinsky, Los Angeles Angels' southpaw, came within one out of hurling his first shutout in nearly two years Sunday but had to settle for relief help and a 4-1 triumph over Cleveland.

The victory was Belinsky's third straight, giving him a 5-3 record. He reduced his earned run average to 3.12 while scattering six hits and striking out nine.

The appearance was the first for the 27-year-old lefty since he revealed last week that he had asked the Angels' management to return him to Hawaii, where he pitched in the minor leagues for a while last season.

The pressure of being a star in the big leagues was too much, Belinsky contended.

So, Bo decided, he better change his ways before ulcers did more damage than American League batters. Hawaii, he was convinced, was the proper prescription for recovery.

His request, however, was rejected, and Belinsky must content himself with pitching for the Angels until he earns the return trip.

The way he's going now, he may have to wait until the winter.

In other AL action, New York moved into first place by sweeping Chicagi 2-0 and 2-1 in 17 innings, Boston downed Baltimore 9-6, Detroit defeated Minnesota 4-2 and Washington took Kansas City 13-2 and 5-2.

Belinsky had a four-hit shutout until the Indians got to him for a walk and two hits with only one out remaining in the game. Bob Duliba came on and retired the last batter, preserving the Angels' five-game winning streak.

The Yankees continued their amazing mastery over Chicago, extending their record this season to 9-0 with the White Sox. The double victory moved the Yankees eight percentage points ahead of the Orioles.

Home runs by Elston Howard and Mickey Mantle took care of the opener. New York, however, needed an error by shortstop Al Weis with the bases loaded in the 17th to win the nightcap. Weis fumbled Bill Stafford's grounder, allowing Hector Lopez to score. Lopez had doubled with one out and reached third on walks to Howard and Phil Linz.

Dick Stuart belted four hits and drove in four runs, three on a homer, as the Red Sox helped dump the Orioles from the top. Carl Yastrzemski had three singles and drove in two runs for Boston. John Orsino and Willie Kirkland homered for Baltimore.

Dave Wickersham beat Minnesota for the fourth time without a defeat this season. The Tiger hurler needed help from Ed Rakow in the ninth after Tony Oliva homered and a walk and singles by Bob Allison and Jerry Kindall brought in another run.

George Thomas singled across two runs for the Tigers in the first while Bubba Phillips homered in the seventh.

The Senators cooled off the Athletics, winners of eight of their previous nine games. Don Lock drove in five runs with two homers in the opener and doubled home a run in the second game. Jim King had four hits and two RBI in the first game.

Al Koch held the Athletics to three hits in the nightcap before Ed Charles homered in the ninth. Ron Kaline relieved Koch and retired the side. Koch singled home what turned out to be the deciding run in the fourth.

Miss Wright Golf Winner

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Mickey Wright says she "played miserably," but the odds are the other 43 entrants in the Lady Carling Open Golf Tournament don't agree.

The 29-year-old power-hitter, born in San Diego but playing out of Dallas, carded a 54-hole total of 220 Sunday to take the $1,500 top prize in the $10,000 tournament at Pleasant Valley Country Club.

It was her 57th outing since she joined professional ranks in 1954, and it boosted her into third place among all-time money-winners in women's professional golf. She passed Patty Berg, who recorded a 228 to finish ninth and win $360.

The third round, played in blistering heat on the hilly, temper-trying course described by the Massachusetts Golf Association as one of the neanest in the Bay State, was Mickey's worst of the tournament.

She started out looking as though she intended to better her Saturday score of 74 and her Friday effort of 70.

On the front nine she managed a one-under-par 36. But then she went out to the back nine and shot a 40 for a final round of 76.

Right behind her was Kathy Whitworth, who brought in a 221 with a final-round 70.

Ralston Keeps Tennis Crown

Homes Doomed On Lake Bluff

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—J. Parnell Dwan and others who built their castles on shifting sands on the bluff overlooking Lake Michigan have been forced by nature into a losing brinksmanship.

Some of the expensive homes along the lake side of Lake Shore Drive now actually overhang the broken bluff edges which rim a steep hill down to the waters edge 85 feet below.

Dwan, president of the Dwan Home Canning Co., St. Joseph, said he had 300 feet of yard between the bluff edge and his $60,000 home 10 years ago. He said he's the last householder still living along the west side of the avenue along the bluff.

Some homes have been moved away. Others appear doomed to topple as the bluff line recedes.

Dwan blamed a clay foundation beneath the bluff, and rainfall. When heavy rains come and the sand is saturated, moisture does not seep through the clay, carrying the sand with it toward the lake, and underming the hill until another chunk breaks off.

Draft To Call 556 For July

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's local draft boards today were ordered to deliver 556 draftees for induction into the armed services in July.

Col. Arthur Holmes, state director of Selective Service, meanwhile announced that local boards will begin the physical examinations of 18-year-old registrants in July. This will not mean a speedup of the draft, Holmes said.

Purpose of the early examinations for 18-year-olds is to enable those who are found qualified for military service to make definite plans for the future, Holmes said.

Only those 18-year-olds who are not deferred will be ordered for the early examinations. This will eliminate students, married men and those who have enlisted in regular or reserve units of the armed forces.

The July call by counties:

Alger 3; Baraga 2; Chippewa 2; Delta 1; Dickinson 3; Gogebic 3; Houghton 6; Iron 1; Keweenaw 1; Mackinac 1; Marquette 10; Menominee 8; Ontonagon 5; Schoolcraft 4.

Honors Given To 2 Dailies

GAYLORD (AP) — Members of the Michigan Associated Press Editorial Association have honored The Kalamazoo Gazette and The Bay City Times for their outstanding cooperation in sharing news and pictures.

The Gazette was named "Member of the Year" Saturday for its reporting of Kalamazoo-area events to other AP members.

The Bay City Times was singled out for outstanding service in making its pictures available to The Associated Press wirephoto network, which transmits a picture statewide or nationwide in just eight minutes.

The MAPEA unanimously elevated Robert Herrick, editor of The Muskegon Chronicle, to president and chose Grant Howell, managing editor of Royal Oak's Daily Tribune, to succeed him as vice president.

N. A. (Bert) Lindenfeld, executive editor of the Benton Harbor News-Palladium, served as president over the last year.

Sawyer Exercise Planned Monday

Aircraft assigned to the 410th Bombardment Wing at Sawyer Air Force Base will participate in a series of minimum interval take-off exercises during the coming week.

The largest single exercise, set for Monday evening, will have four B-52H Stratofortresses launching at 15 second intervals. Fifteen minutes later five KC-135 Stratotankers will launch, also at 15 second intervals. The bombers begin launching at 9:40 p.m. EST.

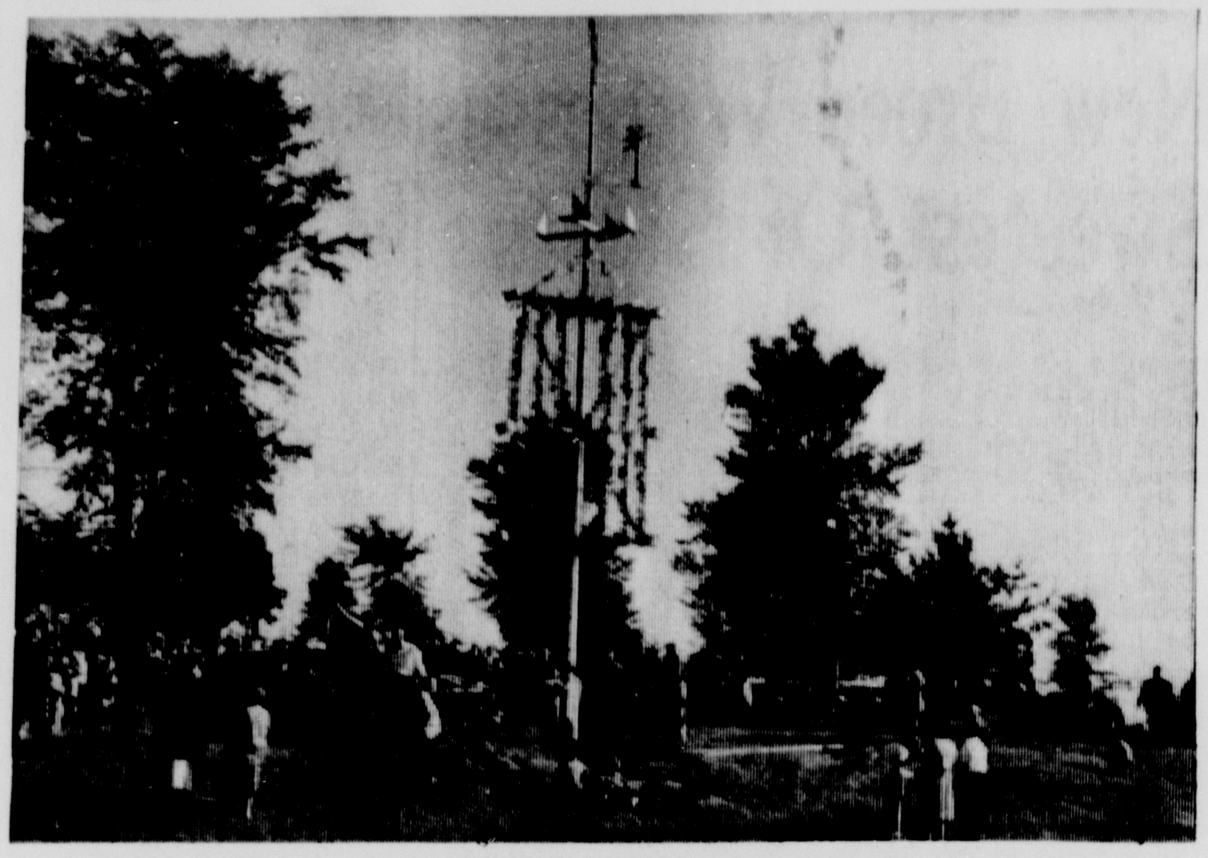
GLADSTONE



THE SWEDISH CLUB marked their 30th anniversary Saturday with the traditional raising of the Midsummer Pole. A large crowd gathered to witness the occasion which also included planting memorial trees for deceased members. The pole was just under 40 feet high and symbolized the Biblical story of the creation. (Daily Press Photo)

Three Youths Apprehended On Beer Charge

Three Escanaba youths were arrested at 2:40 a.m. today by State Police for being minors in possession of beer. The youths gave chase to the arresting officers and were apprehended at U.S. 2-41 at County Road 426.

Arrested were: Jack M. Frappier, 17, of 521 1st Ave. S., Francis J. Hossele, 17, of 516 2nd Ave. S. and Patrick S. Boddy, 19, of 427 S. 14th St., who was also ticketed for reckless driving.

The young men were taken to the Delta County Jail and will be arraigned today.

Youth Arrested By State Police At Beer Party

Ralph Thomas Rivard, 20, of 1408 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, was arrested by State Police at 8:45 p.m. Sunday on a charge of being a minor in possession of beer.

Rivard was with a group of youths at a beer party on County Road A-33. The other youths fled and were not apprehended. He was lodged in the Delta County Jail and released on bail.

Briefly Told

Millie Steinmetz, of 201 S. 5th St., reported to State Police that her purse was taken from her unlocked car when it was parked near the Escanaba Concrete Co. back gate at 10:45 p.m. Sunday.

James J. Gabrielson, 23, of 564 N. 8th St., Gladstone was ticketed by State Police for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions, when he ran off the road on the right hand side and went across the road and struck a tree and telephone pole. The mishap happened at 2:25 a.m. Sunday on County Road 426 in Well Township.

State Police investigated two reports of stolen cars from the Riverland Ballroom parking lot early Sunday morning. Donald Seymour, Rte. 1 Escanaba, reported that his car had been taken about 12:40 a.m. State Police found the vehicle stuck in the ditch about one half mile west of County Road 414. William Butler, Rte. 1 Escanaba, reported his car stolen about 12:50 a.m. and it was found stuck in the ditch on a side road about two blocks from where it was taken.

State Police of the Gladstone Post issued traffic tickets to the following motorists over the weekend: Elroy C. LaCosse, Rte. 1 Escanaba, no valid chauffeur's license; James A. Congleton, 311½ S. 16th St., defective brakes; Carleton G. Nelson, 2630 Lake Shore Drive, no operator's license; John M. Hagman, Rockford, Ill., speeding; Joyce O. Coolman, 205 N. 19th St., drove wrong way on one way road; Marvin A Desotell, Rte. 1 Powers, excessive noise and violation of registration laws; Walter J. Couillard, Manisitque, no operator's license and violation of registration laws; Eero L. Laakso, Glen M. Campron and Roy W. Moran, all of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., for failing to stop for a through highway.

New Saddle Sent To White House

DALLAS (AP)—Quote of the day: Billy Bode, president of the Texas Livestock Aunction Association, as a delegation left Dallas to deliver a $2,500 saddle with gold ornaments to President Johnson: "We just discovered the saddle the President had at the ranch was, well, inadequate for a man of his capacity."

Swedish Club Raises Pole

A large crowd of onlookers observed the Gladstone Swedish Club raise the Midsummer Pole on Saturday in VanCleve Park in Gladstone.

The Swedish Club also marked its 30th Anniversary Saturday and the pole raising was the first such event in the history of this area. The festival is traditional in the Scandinavian countries and is highlighted by programs, games, feasting and the raising of the Midsummer pole. It was originally a pagan festival and was changed to a Christian festival dedicated to St. John the Baptist.

The afternoon program included Invocation by Rev. Karl J. Hammar of Escanaba, a welcome address by Walter Erickson, Swedish Club president and remarks by Raymond Norton, Gladstone mayor.

Following the group singing of the National Anthem William Nelson planted three trees in memory of deceased members: John M. Olson, John E. Johnson, John Strand, John Sigg, Fred Seibert, Hilding Grandberg, Vincent E Tillman and Julius Bredahl.

The Swedish Club Octet sang traditional Swedish songs before the raising of the pole. A. T. Sohlberg explained that the pole raising tradtion originated hundred of years ago in the Aaland Islands, between Sweden and Finland. As a religious ceremony, the pole was decorated to symbolize the Biblical story of the creation.

The lower portion of the pole carries three cross arms on which hang colored crowns, representing the six days of creation and leaves and greenery symbolize the growth days of summer.

Higher up on the pole are four smaller cross arms bearing four miniature ships, one for each season. Above the ships is a weather vane, the whirling propeller representing the sun and the rooster the sun's herald. A figure of John the Baptist is atop the pole, representing man as God's highest form of creation.

Streamers of red, white and blue added a patriotic American touch to the event.

Sohlberg's three little grandchildren attended the occasion in full Swedish costume and were an added highlight to the affair.

James N. Kee, formerly of Gladstone, has been appointed sales manager, Consumer Products Division, of Master Appliance Corp., Racine, Wis. Prior to joining Master Appliance, Kee was assistant commercial products manager with the Jacobsen Manufacturing Co.

Two Burned By Radiator Blast

Arthur Rivers, 43, and his son Raymond, 14, of Rte. 1 Gladstone, received first and second degree burns on their legs Sunday about 3 p.m. when a radiator on the truck in which they were riding blew up.

According to State Police who investigated, the pair were hauling pulp on County Road 442 in Masonville Township when the radiator blew up and caused hot water and steam to come up into the cab of the truck and burn their legs. They were treated by a Gladstone physician.

MANISTIQUE

Where The Beauties?

July 4th Queen Nominees Sought

The International club of Manistique, which is in charge of queen selection for the Fourth of July is pondering why so few contestants for the role, which also qualifies the queen as the county's entry in the U.P. State Fair.

Schoolcraft has had an Upper Peninsula Queen, Nancy Johnson, in 1962. Members of the club note:

"With so many good looking girls in Manistique, we should have lots of candidates."

An interested candidate or her friends may contact Mrs. Leon Wood telephone 341-5194 or Mrs. Thomas Wood, phone 341-2413. Applications are to be submitted and judging takes place at Liberty hall Wednesday, June 24 at 8 p.m. Candidates may also report then if they have not registered earlier.

They should wear sportswear and also bring formal clothing for the judging that night.

Members of the club, which used to be the Foreign War brides club, and their husbands will judge. Judging will be on attractiveness, poise, and informal speaking ability. There is no talent judging.

A special meeting of the International Club will be held at Mrs. Leon Woods, Manistiquet Heights, at 8 p.m., today (Monday) to discuss final arrangments for the judging. All members have been asked to attend.

The queen will participate in Manistique's Fourth of July festivities and also in U.P. State Fair queen activities. Both the queen and the two in her court receive gifts from the local committee, plus the royal honors bestowed during the activities. The July Fourth queen's breakfast this year will be at the Liberty.

With all this, the queen's committee of the club hopes that the beauty of Schoolcraft County will step forward, so the queen will be the "prettiest of the prettiest."

Senior Citizen Unit Planned

Plans have been made for a meeting at 7:30 p.m., July 14th at the Manistique Youth Center to continue plans for organization of a senior citizens club.

Forty-eight persons attended a meeting on it at the courthouse Thursday night at which Floyd Wallace, state representative for the Commission on Aging spoke. He noted the attendance was the largest gathering of senior citizens he had seen in his three years in organizing senior citizen clubs.

The population of Michigan has increased 19 per cent and the number of senior citizens has increased 35 per cent and that this increase will continue in the years ahead, as persons live longer, he said. By 1970 it is expected it will not be uncommon to have persons living to be 100. He said there are 483 senior citizen clubs in Michigan and that 53 of the 83 counties of the state have senior citizens councils.

Harold Carlson has been elected chairman of the Council on Aging here and Donald Martin, secretary. The nominating committee was headed by Stanley Carlyon. Mrs. William Hood and Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur volunteered to help plan the next meeting. Both formerly worked with the Harvesters Club here.

Refreshments, entertainment and a social hour are planned for the session, at which final organization will be undertaken. There will be no fee for membership. The club will be governed by senior citizens. New members are welcome; rides will be provided those needing it. Those who received questionaires are asked to return them by July 14.

English Lady Flies Here To Join Daughter

Mrs. Margaret Jones has arrived from Luton, Bedfordshire, England, to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, her son-in-law and daughter.

Bedfordshire is 35 miles from London and has a suburban atmosphere. Luton is an industrial city, home of the largest ball-bearing plant in the world and also site of a General Motors car-truck plant.

Her daughter, Mary, was married to Mr. Smith in Luton in 1944 while he was there with the Eighth Air Force. Mrs. Jones lived seven years with them while they were in Ohio, where he was in the painting and contracting business.

This was the seventh Atlantic crossing for Mrs. Jones, who is 70, and her first by air. The flight by jet took six hours from London to Detroit.

Mrs. Jones likes the Upper Peninsula countryside with its pines and water and the cooler climate, which is more like that of England than Ohio's.

Her family also includes three sons, all in England.

Edward Tatrows Wed 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tatrow of Garden celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary June 15. The couple was married in St. John the Baptilst church at Garden June 15, 1914. She is the former Amelia Couchene. Both are life-long residents of Garden. She is a daughter of the Henry Couchenes and he of the Joseph Tatrows. The couple had five children, Mrs. Joseph (Leoda) Baldwin of Wayne, Joseph and Hal Tatrow, Garden, Blondie Tatrow, Detroit, and the late Vance Tatrow, a world War II casualty.

Grand Marais Child Killed

Deborah Mixon, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mixon, Burt Township, Alger County, died at 7:30 p.m., Friday in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital of head injuries suffered in an accident at 3:30 p.m., Friday on the Mixon road, six miles east of Grand Marais.

State Police of the Munising post said the child was in a ditch along the road, apparently waiting for an approaching car to pass, then walked into the road and into the path of a jeep coming from the opposite direction.

The jeep was driven by Blake Towe, 72, of Grand Marais. Officers said he was not held.

Christensens Have 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Christensen, 222 W. Biddle, Jackson, are celebrating their golden wedding anniversary June 25. They are former Manistique residents. An open house will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Farr for the occasion.

Moms Plan Picnic

Moms of America 31 met at 8 p.m., Friday in VFW clubrooms and heard announcements of the state convention scheduled in Saginaw Sept. 23-25. A picnic is planned by the local group at 6 p.m., July 17. In games awards were won by Mrs. Alex Cooper, Mrs. Mary Chandanais and Mrs. Earl Malloch. Mrs. Vern Dixon won the pillow award. Hostesses were Mrs. Mary Osterhout and Mrs. Frank LaMourie.

Skelton Shows His Paintings

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Comedian Red Skelton kicked off his 40th year in show business with a "straight act", he's been working on secretly since 1943.

The 50-year-old comic put a collection of his oil paintings on exhibit at the hotel where he is midway through a six-week engagement.

The showing, featuring 50 works completed in the past year, will run to July 14.

Red's description of how he started painting sounds like one of his routines.

"I went into a big Chicago department store and just happened to notice some paintings they had on display there. I asked a clerk about one that looked to me like a bunch of blotches. He said, 'Ten thousand wouldn't buy that one.'"

"I told him I was one of the ten thousand and went out and bought my first set of paints that afternoon."

Works Fast

Skelton's paintings fall into three categories — portraits of animals and clowns, elongated caricatures of people, and still life.

Very shy about his painting, he has never attempted a serious portrait of a person—aside from a few clowns in heavy makeup.

His wife, Georgia, who studied art in Los Angeles, came up with the idea of the exhibit.

Skelton was hesitant about putting his serious self before the public, which has applauded his antics since he went on stage at the age of 10.

Skelton grimaces while he makes laughing remarks, but he is keenly sensitive to criticism—whether it comes from another artist, an entertainer or a workman at the hotel.

He works rapidly, sometimes on three or more canvases at one time. He paints indoors, outdoors, even standing in the shallow end of his pool with an easel on the bank.

Studio Outdoors

"When something starts bothering me about a picture, I work on another one until I can figure out what's wrong with the first one. Sometimes I don't find out for weeks. Sometimes I just don't find out."

In Las Vegas, Red does most of his work out-of-doors, wearing a straw hat and a plastic raincoat over bathing trunks. The raincoat is a weight-losing device in the 95-degree desert heat.

"I know my stuff isn't good now. Maybe it never will be, but at least people will be able to say, 'I don't like the mouth' or 'The ears are too big for that face.' Nobody will ever walk away from something I do wondering what it's supposed to be," Red says.

Land Deals Begin For New Freeway Through Lansing

LANSING (AP) — The state will begin in 1965, more than a year ahead of schedule, to acquire land for the $26 million east-west freeway through the capital city.

Some 400 parcels of land will be purchased for right-of-way, at a total cost of $5 million. The accelerated schedule will give dislocated residents an extra year to find a new home, Commissioner John Mackie said.

Construction of the freeway is to begin in 1968.

Spending Hits Record At MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has approved spending a record $100 million in 1964-65, while one board member complained it was insufficient to "permit this university to do the job it ought to do."

The board approved a budget of $55.37 million to finance the East Lansing campus, Oakland University near Rochester, the agricultural experiment station and the cooperative extension service. An additional $45 million is expected for research and international programs, in gifts, grants and auxiliary enterprises.

The $55.37 million figure is $8.53 million higher than the amount budgeted for the fiscal year just ending.

Included is a $39.3 million state appropriation.

The appropriation represented a healthy increase from this year's budget, but was knocked by trustees as inadequate.

Trustee Warren Huff of Plymouth complained: "The amount involved here won't permit this university to do the job it ought to do. We are taking more than our share of youngsters."

He said the legislature based its appropriation on past enrollment figures—not taking into account the record 30,500 students due on campus next fall. Some 27,600 students enrolled last fall.

Ishpeming Boys Win VFW Title

MUSKEGON (AP)—Canadian-born Angus MacLeod, 43, a U.S. Army radio operator in World War II, became state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Sunday.

MacLeod, former senior vice commander, moved up to the top post in the VFW's election process as the servicemen's organization concluded its annual convention.

An elections highlight was the selection of Boniface Maile, Grosse Pointe attorney, as junior commander, ordinarily the first step to the post of commander.

Maile won out over John S. Kulick of Detroit after a 2½-hour floor debate. The vote was not announced.

MacLeod, Mount Clemens department store display director, is a native of Nova Scotia. He came to Michigan as a boy. He and his wife, the former Margaret Lawson of East Detroit, have two children. MacLeod succeeded Ernest Stratychuk of Dearborn.

Clarence Schumacher of Rockford, former junior vice commander, moved up to senior vice commander. He will become commander next year.

Dr. William McAlonan of Detroit was named VFW surgeon for a 13th year and Christie J. Braun of Lansing quartermaster for an 18th year.

George Cholack, Detroit attorney, was named judge advocate. Fred Bentz of Ann Arbor was elected chaplain.

Champions were named in the VFW's annual band and drum and bugle corps competition.

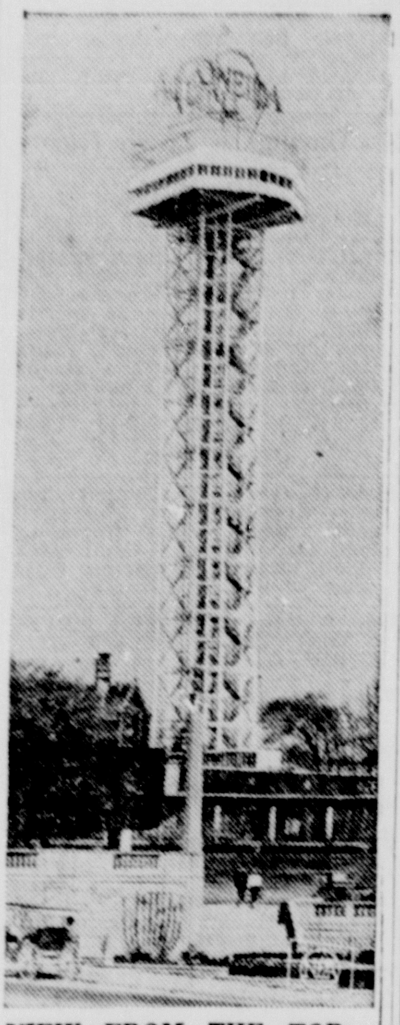
The Morley S. Oates senior band of Lansing Post 701, defending national champion, was declared state senior band champion for the 14th straight year.

Muskegon High School's Big Reds was named junior band champion in the class for personnel 21 years old or younger.

The Vanguards of St. Clair Shores won the senior drum and and bugle corps and the Blue Lancers of Ishpeming were victorious in the junior group.

All four bands and bugle corps are eligible to compete in the national championships at VFW convention in Cleveland in August.

With about 70 manufacturers the sewing machine industry of Japan is the largest in the world.



VIEW FROM THE TOP—The new, 341-foot Oneida observation tower in Niagara Falls, Ontario, gives visitors a panoramic view of the Horseshoe and American Falls and other breath-taking sights. Two elevators can transport 1,800 people per hour to the tower's top.

Campus Building Group Appointed

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney has appointed nine persons to a commission to recommend uses of campus construction funds made available by recent federal legislation.

Howard Stoddard, chairman of the board of the Michigan National Bank, Lansing, and Michigan Bank, Detroit, will serve a four-year term as chairman of the Michigan Higher Education Facilities Commission.

Others include:

Charles Anspach, Mount Pleasant; Edward Kelley, Royal Oak; Phillip Gannon, Lansing; John Stahlin, Belding- Mrs. James Phelan Jr., Lapeer; T. Walter Kelley, Cadillac; Mrs. William Reifel, Ann Arbor, and William Beerman, Munising.

Senate confirmation is necessary.

It is estimated that 40 per cent of all U. S. wives are employed outside the home.

Eagles Elect State Officers

GAYLORD (AP)—The Michigan State Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles climaxed its four-day annual convention here Sunday with the election of Duane O. Johnson of Waterford as president.

Other officers include: George Blackstock, Madison Heights, vice president; Dwight Essesberg, Muskegon Heights, chaplain; Oscar Pekkala, Hancock, conductor; Ralph J. Bird, Grand Rapids, secretary, and Beverly Van Duzen, Hazel Park, treasurer.

Elected trustees were Perry Heath, Lincoln Park; Ray Charvat, Owosso; Michael Lovviska, St. Clair Shores; Walter Botticher, Kalamazoo, and Archie Fox, Gaylord.

Johnson succeeds D.D. Dunlap of Adrian, immediate junior past president.

The Eagles chose Lansing as the site of next year's june convention.

Tech Grant Aids Gravel Research

HOUGHTON — Michigan Tech's Department of Civil Engineering has been awarded a $26,260 research grant that someday could lead to better, longer wearing roads and highways.

The funds are for the initial year of a proposed four-year, $10,000-plus project investigating the geometric characteristics of mineral aggregates (gravel) for pavement purposes. The U.S. Bureau of Roads is sponsoring the project, which will be supervised by the Michigan State Highway Department Office of Testing and Research.
